Sponsor: Representative Toma, LD 22
Committee on Ways & Means

Overview

Changes the way general obligation bond funds of a district can be utilized. Creates reconciliation provisions for district board compositions created after August 9, 2017 and before the effective date of this bill.

History

Current law dictates that a district will be governed by a board of five members, with two additional members, ex officio, who are initially designated by the owner who owns the largest amount of private land and appointed by the governing body and will provide a process for the designation of the two additional members, if applicable (A.R.S. § 48-702).

Current law states that any fees or other charges paid for the application when forming a district in excess of actual costs in the formation of such district will be used by the municipality or county for the sole purpose to support formation and administration of the district (A.R.S. § 48-708).

Current law states that the district board will prescribe denominations of bonds, maturities, interest payment dates and interest rates, fixed or variable and will not exceed the maximum rate in the notice or resolution of the board. Bonds may be sold above or below par and if bonds are sold below par then the aggregate amount of discount and interest that would have been payable on those bonds at the maximum rate set by the bond resolution (A.R.S. § 48-722).
