

ARIZONA STATE SENATE
Fifty-Sixth Legislature, First Regular Session

FACT SHEET FOR H.B. 2444

natural resource conservation districts; revisions

Purpose

Establishes the Natural Resource Conservation District (NRCD) Fund and the NRCD Fund Commission (Commission).

Background

The Natural Resource Conservation Service (NRCS) was established as a division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) in response to the 1930's Dust Bowl. In 1941, Arizona created NRCDs to provide for the restoration and conservation of lands and soil resources of Arizona (ASLD; A.R.S. § 37-1001). Arizona has 32 NRCDs that are administered by the Arizona State Land Department (ASLD) and 10 Soil and Water Conservation Districts (CDs) that were created through Tribal Law (ASLD). NRCDs and CDs may enter into memoranda of understanding (MOUs) with the NRCS when their objectives and duties overlap to outline their respective roles in completing goals and projects (USDA).

The ASLD Commissioner (Commissioner) oversees NRCDs through the Natural Resource Conservation Division within ASLD (A.R.S. § 37-1011). The Commissioner must: 1) provide assistance to supervisors of NRCDs; 2) supervise NRCDs activities; 3) coordinate programs through advice and consultation; 4) require NRCDs to file annual audits and records of operations; and 5) secure assistance of the United States (A.R.S. § 37-1013).

NRCDs are governed by five-member supervisory boards consisting of three elected supervisors and two Commissioner-appointed supervisors. Each supervisor serves six-year terms (A.R.S. § 37-1051). NRCDs may: 1) conduct research programs; 2) create and administer soil health programs; 3) enter into agreements to carry out programs on conservation; 4) develop and distribute comprehensive plans for conserving soil and water resources; and 5) establish education centers to increase the knowledge of natural resources (A.R.S. § 37-1054).

There is no anticipated fiscal impact to the state General Fund associated with this legislation.
