The bill defines seasonal outdoor adventure day camp programs as a type of children’s resident camp for licensing purposes. The bill minimally increases state workload in FY 2024-25 only.

Appropriation Summary: No appropriation is required.

Fiscal Note Status: The final fiscal note reflects the enacted bill.

Summary of Legislation

Currently, the Department of Early Childhood (CDEC) requires outdoor adventure day camp programs to meet the licensing requirements of School-age Child Care Centers. The bill requires these programs to instead fall under the regulatory framework for Children’s Resident Camps, defining it as a type of children’s resident camp that serves children five years or older and operates for at least six hours a day on a seasonal basis.

State Expenditures

In FY 2024-25, workload for the CDEC will minimally increase to develop rules for outdoor adventure day camp programs under the Children’s Resident Camps regulations, and to shift the licensing processes for these day camps to the new rules. This work can be accomplished within existing appropriations.

Effective Date

This bill was signed into law by the Governor and took effect on April 4, 2024.
