FINAL HOUSE FLOOR ACTION: 119 Y's 0 N's GOVERNOR'S ACTION: Pending

SUMMARY ANALYSIS

CS/HB 491 passed the House on April 21, 2021, as SB 346 as amended. The Senate concurred in the House amendment to the Senate bill and subsequently passed the bill as amended on April 27, 2021.

The Florida Real Estate Appraisal Board (Board) within the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) regulates real estate appraisers under of ch. 475, part II, F.S. The Board, through its rules, is authorized to:

- Regulate the issuance of licenses, certifications, registrations, and permits;
- Discipline appraisers;
- Establish qualifications for licenses, certifications, registrations, and permits;
- Regulate approved courses;
- Establish standards for real estate appraisals; and
- Establish standards for and regulate supervisory appraisers.

The Board consists of nine members, each appointed by the Governor and subject to confirmation by the Senate. The Governor may remove any Board member for cause. The membership includes:

- Four members who are real estate appraisers who have been engaged in the general practice of appraising real property in this state for at least 5 years immediately preceding appointment;
- Two members who represent the appraisal management industry;
- One member who represents organizations that use appraisals for the purpose of eminent domain proceedings, financial transactions, or mortgage insurance; and
- Two members who represent the general public and are not connected in any way with the practice of real estate appraisal.

The bill revises the membership of the Board as follows:

- Decreases the number of Board members who represent the appraisal management industry from two members to one.
- Increases the number of Board members who represent the general public from two members to three.

The bill does not appear to have a fiscal impact on state or local government.

Subject to the Governor's veto powers, the effective date of the bill is November 1, 2021.

A. EFFECT OF CHANGES:

Present Situation

The Division of Real Estate (DRE) within the Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) provides administrative support to the Florida Real Estate Commission¹ and the Florida Real Estate Appraisal Board (Board).² The Board regulates real estate appraisers under of ch. 475, part II, F.S., and through its rules, is authorized to:

- Regulate the issuance of licenses, certifications, registrations, and permits;
- Discipline appraisers;
- Establish qualifications for licenses, certifications, registrations, and permits;
- Regulate approved courses;
- Establish standards for real estate appraisals; and
- Establish standards for and regulate supervisory appraisers.³

According to the most recent data, there are 6,655 active certified real estate appraisers,⁴ and 219 active real estate appraisal management companies, in the state.⁵

The Board consists of nine members, each appointed by the Governor and subject to confirmation by the Senate. The Governor may remove any Board member for cause. The membership includes:

- Four members who are real estate appraisers who have been engaged in the general practice of appraising real property in this state for at least 5 years immediately preceding appointment;
- Two members who represent the appraisal management industry;
- One member who represents organizations that use appraisals for the purpose of eminent domain proceedings, financial transactions, or mortgage insurance; and
- Two members who represent the general public and are not connected in any way with the practice of real estate appraisal.⁶

Members of the Board are appointed for four-year terms, and may not be appointed for more than two consecutive terms. The headquarters of the Board is in Orlando, Florida. The Board must meet at least once each calendar quarter to conduct its business. Members must elect a chairperson at the first meeting each year.⁷ Each member of the Board is entitled to per diem and travel expenses as set by legislative appropriation for each day that the member engages in the business of the Board.⁸ There is currently one vacancy on the Board.⁹ There are two members with current appointments expiring October 31, 2021 and six continue to hold office through the expiration of their term, including both public members and both appraisal management industry representatives.¹⁰

In 2010, the membership of the Board was increased from seven members to nine members with the addition of two members representing the appraisal management industry, based on the state's adoption of the policy to include the licensing and regulation of appraisal management companies with real estate appraisers. Appraisal management companies are business entities that administer networks of independent appraisers to fulfill real estate appraisal assignments on behalf of lenders and were not regulated in Florida before 2010.¹¹

Proposed Changes

The bill revises the membership of the Board as follows:

- Decreases the number of Board members who represent the appraisal management industry from two members to one.
- Increases the number of Board members who represent the general public from two members to three.
