SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) regulates and licenses various businesses and professionals in Florida through 12 divisions, including the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes (division), which regulates yacht and ship brokers and salespersons. A person may not act as a broker or salesperson in Florida unless they are licensed by the division.

For the purposes of the practice act, “yacht” means any vessel which is propelled by sail or machinery in the water which exceeds 32 feet in length, and which weighs less than 300 gross tons.

A yacht and ship “broker” is a person who, for or in expectation of compensation: sells, offers, or negotiates to sell; buys, offers, or negotiates to buy; solicits or obtains listings of; or negotiates the purchase, sale, or exchange of, yachts for other persons. A person may not be licensed as a broker unless they have been a salesperson for at least 2 consecutive years.

A license is not required for:

- A person who sells his or her own yacht,
- An attorney at law for services rendered in his or her professional capacity,
- A receiver, trustee, or other person acting under a court order,
- A transaction involving the sale of a new yacht, or
- A transaction involving the foreclosure of a security interest in a yacht.

The bill provides that a license is not required for a person who regularly conducts business as a yacht or ship broker or salesperson in another state who engages in the purchase or sale of a yacht under this act, if the transaction is executed with a broker or salesperson licensed in this state. This limitation does not apply to a duly licensed attorney.

The bill may have a minimal indeterminate fiscal impact on state government, and no fiscal impact on local governments.

The bill is effective upon becoming law.

Yacht and Ship Brokers

The Florida Department of Business and Professional Regulation (DBPR) regulates and licenses various businesses and professionals in Florida through 12 divisions, including the Division of Florida Condominiums, Timeshares, and Mobile Homes (division).¹

For the purposes of the practice act, "yacht" means any vessel which is propelled by sail or machinery in the water which exceeds 32 feet in length, and which weighs less than 300 gross tons.⁴

A yacht and ship "broker" is a person who, for or in expectation of compensation: sells, offers, or negotiates to sell; buys, offers, or negotiates to buy; solicits or obtains listings of; or negotiates the purchase, sale, or exchange of, yachts for other persons.⁵ A person may not be licensed as a broker unless they have been a salesperson for at least 2 consecutive years.⁶

A yacht and ship "salesperson" is a person who, for or in expectation of compensation, is employed by a broker to perform any acts of a broker.⁷

Yacht and ship brokers, salespersons, and related business organizations are regulated under ch. 326, F.S., and by the division.⁸ A person may not act as a broker or salesperson in Florida unless they are licensed by the division.⁹
