SUMMARY ANALYSIS

The Florida Constitution requires all property to be assessed at just value as of January 1 of each year for purposes of ad valorem taxation. Ad valorem assessments are used to calculate property taxes that fund counties, municipalities, district school boards, and special districts. The taxable value against which local governments levy tax rates each year reflects the just value as reduced by applicable limitations and exemptions allowed by the Florida Constitution. One such exemption is on the first $25,000 of assessed value of a homestead property, which is exempt from all taxes. A second homestead exemption is on the value between $50,000 and $75,000, which is exempt from all taxes other than school district taxes.

This bill implements the amendment to Article VII, Section 6(g) of the Florida Constitution, proposed in HJR 1, which authorizes the Legislature by general law to provide an additional $50,000 homestead exemption on the assessed value between $100,000 and $150,000 for specified critical public service employees. This bill limits the exemption to all taxes other than school district taxes. Specified employees eligible for the exemption include classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, correctional officers, firefighters, child welfare services professionals, active duty members of the United States Armed Forces, and members of the Florida National Guard.

The Revenue Estimating Conference estimated that if the constitutional amendment is approved by the voters, that the bill would have a recurring negative impact on non-school property tax revenues in FY 2022-23 of -$80.9 million, growing to -$93.6 million in FY 2026-27.

This bill takes effect on the same day that the constitutional amendment proposed by HJR 1, or a similar joint resolution, takes effect, which is January 1, 2023.

This bill may be a county or municipality mandate requiring a two-thirds vote of the membership of the House. See Section III.A.1 of the analysis.

I. SUBSTANTIVE ANALYSIS

A. EFFECT OF PROPOSED CHANGES:

Current Situation

The Florida Constitution reserves ad valorem taxation to local governments and prohibits the state from levying ad valorem taxes on real and tangible personal property.<sup>1</sup> Ad valorem taxes are annual taxes levied by counties, cities, school districts and certain special districts. These taxes are based on the just value of real and tangible personal property as determined by county property appraisers on January 1 of each year.<sup>2</sup> The just value may be subject to limitations, such as the “save our homes” limitation on homestead property assessment increases.<sup>3</sup> The value arrived at after accounting for applicable limitations is known as the assessed value. Property Appraisers then calculate taxable value by reducing the assessed value in accordance with any applicable exemptions, such as the exemptions for homestead property.<sup>4</sup> Each year, local governing boards levy millage rates (i.e. tax rates) on taxable value to generate the property tax revenue contemplated in their annual budgets.

The homestead exemption is specified in Article VII, Section 6 of the Florida Constitution, which provides that every person who holds legal or equitable title to real estate and uses said real estate as a permanent residence for themselves or a legal or natural dependent is entitled to exemption from taxes on the first $25,000 of assessed value.<sup>5</sup> In 2008, Florida voters amended this provision to include an additional $25,000 exemption from all taxes other than school district taxes on assessed value greater than $50,000.<sup>6</sup> The constitution also vests the legislature with authority to enact general law establishing the manner in which individuals qualify for exemption. Accordingly, s. 196.031(1)(b), F.S. automatically grants the additional, non-school homestead exemption to every individual who qualifies for the initial homestead exemption on the first $25,000 in assessed value. An additional homestead exemption is not currently in place which benefits classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, correctional officers, firefighters, child welfare services professionals, active duty military personnel, or members of the Florida National Guard.

Effect of Proposed Changes

This bill implements the proposed constitutional amendment in HJR 1 by providing an additional homestead exemption on the assessed value between $100,000 and $150,000 for all taxes other than school district taxes for classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, correctional officers, firefighters, child welfare services professionals, active duty members of the United States Armed Forces, and members of the Florida National Guard.

B. SECTION DIRECTORY:

Section 1: Amends s. 196.011, F.S., specifying exemptions under s. 196.077, F.S., are subject to the annual application for exemption unless waived by the county governing body.

Section 2: Creates s. 196.077, F.S., providing an additional homestead exemption from non-school taxes for classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, firefighters, child welfare professionals, and servicemembers.

Section 3: Authorizes the Department of Revenue to adopt emergency rules to administer the act.

II. FISCAL ANALYSIS & ECONOMIC IMPACT STATEMENT

A. FISCAL IMPACT ON STATE GOVERNMENT:

1. Revenues:

The Revenue Estimating Conference (REC) determined that the revenue impact of the bill on local governments is zero/negative indeterminate because the bill is contingent upon passage of the constitutional amendment proposed by HJR 1. If the constitutional amendment does not pass, the impact of the bill is zero. If the constitutional amendment is approved by the voters, the REC estimated that the bill would have a recurring negative impact on non-school property tax revenues in FY 2022-23 of -$80.9 million, growing to -$93.6 million in FY 2026-27.

2. Expenditures:

None.

B. FISCAL IMPACT ON LOCAL GOVERNMENTS:

1. Revenues:

None.

2. Expenditures:

None.

C. DIRECT ECONOMIC IMPACT ON PRIVATE SECTOR:

If HJR 1 is approved by at least 60% of voters, and this bill therefore goes into effect, homestead property owners who are classroom teachers, law enforcement officers, correctional officers, firefighters, child welfare services professionals, active duty military members of the United States Armed Forces, or members of the Florida National Guard will realize lower property taxes than would otherwise occur.

D. FISCAL COMMENTS:

None.

III. COMMENTS

A. CONSTITUTIONAL ISSUES:

1. Applicability of Municipality/County Mandates Provision:

The county/municipality mandates provision of Art. VII, subsection 18(b), of the Florida Constitution may apply because this bill will create an additional ad valorem homestead exemption which may reduce municipalities and counties authority to raise revenue. This bill does not appear to qualify under any exemption or exception. If the bill does qualify as a mandate, final passage must be approved by two-thirds of the membership of each house of the Legislature.

2. Other:

None.

B. RULE-MAKING AUTHORITY:

This bill authorizes the Florida Department of Revenue to adopt emergency rules to administer the act.

C. DRAFTING ISSUES OR OTHER COMMENTS:

None.
