A RESOLUTION

1 Creating the House Study Committee on Alternatives to Opioids for Pain Management; and 2 for other purposes.

3 WHEREAS, the opioid epidemic, also known as the opioid crisis, is a nationwide problem
4 in the United States that involves the widespread use of painkillers and subsequent popularity 5 of illegal opioids; and

6 WHEREAS, opioids are a class of drugs that includes illegal drugs such as heroin, synthetic 7 opioids such as fentanyl, and pain relievers available legally by prescription. Opioids can 8 help relieve severe pain but, unfortunately, are highly addictive, and withdrawals from them 9 are painful; and

10 WHEREAS, the National Center for Health Statistics at the Centers for Disease Control and 11 Prevention reports that more than 106,000 lives were lost from drug-involved overdoses in 12 2021, and 75 percent of all drug overdose deaths involved opioids; and

13 WHEREAS, the Department of Public Health reports there were 2,390 drug overdose deaths 14 in Georgia in 2021, and 71 percent were attributed to opioids; and

H. R. 1360 (SUB)

15 WHEREAS, in 2022, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention updated prescribing 16 guidelines to emphasize the efficacy of nonopioid alternatives for many common types of 17 acute pain and to encourage their use over opioids; and

18 WHEREAS, all 50 states have opioid prescribing guidelines, but only 16 states have 19 statutory requirements mandating prescriber consideration of nonopioid alternatives; and

20 WHEREAS, Georgia should promote and encourage healthcare providers to inform their 21 patients of nonopioid alternatives, discuss with their patients the advantages and 22 disadvantages of the use of nonopioid alternatives, including any elevated risks of controlled 23 substance abuse or misuse, and provide their patients with educational information on 24 nonopioid alternatives; and

25 WHEREAS, it would be beneficial for policymakers to study ways to enhance awareness of 26 nonopioid alternatives, including nonopioid pharmacologic treatment options, through 27 educational programs for healthcare providers and to enhance collaboration and integration 28 of care between all healthcare providers who assist in treating pain.
