SENATE BILL No. 249

DIGEST OF INTRODUCED BILL

Citations Affected: IC 6-8.1-3-21.2; IC 22-1-1-22; IC 22-3; IC 22-4-19-15.

Synopsis: Improper worker classification. Authorizes the department of state revenue, the department of labor, the worker's compensation board, and the department of workforce development to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of records and to question witnesses under oath when conducting an investigation of any suspected improper worker classification by a construction contractor. Allows the worker's compensation board to issue a stop work order as an additional remedy against an employer that does not have the required insurance and has not furnished satisfactory proof of self-insurance. Provides that service of a stop work order on a worksite is effective as to the employer's operations on that worksite, and that service of a stop work order on an employer is effective as to all of the employer's worksites where the employer has not complied with the insurance or self-insurance requirements. Provides a civil penalty of $1,000 for each day an employer violates a stop work order.

Effective: July 1, 2018.

operations of the employer must cease immediately upon service of the stop work order. The stop work order remains in effect until the worker's compensation board issues:

- (1) an order releasing the stop work order upon a finding that the employer has complied with IC 22-3-2-5 and section 1 of this chapter and has paid any premiums, penalties, and interest assessed under this article against the employer; or
- (2) an order of conditional release under subsection (g).
- (d) An employer that violates a stop work order issued under this section is subject to a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day the employer does not comply with the stop work order. Civil penalties collected under this section shall be deposited in the worker's compensation supplemental administrative fund established by section 6 of this chapter.
- (e) An employer may request that the worker's compensation board reconsider a stop work order issued under this section against the employer. The employer's request must be in writing and filed with the worker's compensation board not later than ten (10) days after the date the employer receives the stop work order. The worker's compensation board shall complete the reconsideration not later than ten (10) days after the date the worker's compensation board receives the request from the employer.
- (f) A stop work order remains in effect during the period of reconsideration or appeal, unless the employer furnishes to the worker's compensation board a cash deposit or bond in the amount that is the greater of:
 - (1) five thousand dollars ($5,000); or
 - (2) one thousand dollars ($1,000) per worker covered by this article.

If there is a final order affirming the stop work order, the employer's bond or cash deposit is applied to the premium, penalties, and interest assessed under this article against the employer.

(g) The worker's compensation board may issue an order of conditional release from the stop work order if the employer complies with IC 22-3-2-5 and section 1 of this chapter and agrees to pay the premiums, penalties, and interest assessed under this article against the employer using a payment schedule. If the terms of the payment schedule are not met, the stop work order may be reinstated, and the employer's unpaid premium, penalty, and interest balance become due.
