Abstract: Makes technical corrections to provisions of law in Title 36 of the La. Revised Statutes of 1950, and makes structural changes to the organization of Title 36.

Proposed law provides for technical corrections to provisions of law in Title 36 of the La. Revised Statutes of 1950. Examples of such technical corrections in proposed law are:

- (1) Standardizes internal citations within Title 36 of the La. Revised Statutes of 1950.
- (2) Removal of placeholder repeal notations and renumbering the remainder of the Section.
- (3) Updating citation references that refer to repealed or redesignated Sections of law.

Organizational Changes to Title 36

When creating or placing an agency within one of the departments in the executive branch of the state government, present law defines the authority of that agency. Within present law, there are six different categories of authority, which are known as "transfer types" or "transfer type authority". Present law, Title 36, uses a "double cross-referencing" system to grant agencies authority within the executive branch. In the present law double cross-referencing system, a Section placing an agency within the executive branch department will contain a reference to the specific transfer type authority. Then, in the present law Sections governing the transfer types, there will be a reference to some, but not all, of the agencies that fall under this type.

Exceptions to the general transfer type authorities are governed by specific statutory Sections under present law. These "exception sections" contain a reference to the general transfer type authority statute that the exception falls under. The Sections placing individual agencies with an exception to the general transfer type authority into its executive branch department will contain a reference to the exception Section, but not a reference to the general transfer type authority.

Proposed law removes the double cross-referencing system. Proposed law updates the individual agency statutes to always reference their general transfer type authority, if applicable. If an agency has an exception to the general transfer type authority, then proposed law lists the transfer type, if applicable, and the exception to the transfer type in the Section placing the agency within its executive branch department.

Proposed law renumbers and rearranges the provisions for agencies placed within the governor's office and the following departments: Civil Service, Environmental Quality, Health, Natural Resources, Public Safety and Corrections, Revenue, Children and Family Services, Wildlife and Fisheries, and Treasury. The following table indicates the present and proposed location of those agencies.
