The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

An Act protecting the viability of farms in the Commonwealth

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Chapter 30A of the General Laws, as appearing in the 2006 Official Edition, is 2 hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following:-

3 Section 18. All state and regional agencies, boards and commissions shall, before any rule, 4 regulation, or other regulatory requirement is promulgated, make public and post in writing 5 whether or not such rule, regulation, or other regulatory requirement will potentially have an 6 adverse impact on commercial agricultural operations based in the Commonwealth. For the 7 purposes of this section, “agricultural” shall mean pertaining to agriculture as defined in section 8 one A of chapter one hundred and twenty-eight. Further, if such rule, regulation, or other

9 regulatory requirement is determined to have such a potential impact on agriculture, the 10 responsible agency, board, or commission, in conjunction with the department of food and 11 agriculture, shall conduct an impact assessment to determine the extent of such impact, 12 including, but not limited to, the effect on future land use and related environmental impacts, 13 including costs, and submit to the joint committee on natural resources and agriculture and to the 14 house and senate committees on ways and means a copy of their findings at least forty-five days 15 prior to promulgation.

16 All city and town agencies, boards, and commissions shall, before enacting any rule, regulation, 17 law, bylaw, ordinance, or other regulatory requirement that will potentially have an adverse 18 impact on commercial agricultural operations based in the Commonwealth, complete a form 19 prescribed by the department of food and agriculture at least ninety days prior to final enactment
20 of the regulatory requirement. In the case of by-laws, ordinances, and other requirements subject 21 to review by the Attorney General, such form shall be submitted to the department of food and 22 agriculture on the same date a by-law, ordinance, or other requirement is submitted to the 23 Attorney General. No regulatory action described in this section, except those of an emergency 24 nature expiring in six months or less for the purposes of protecting health and safety of persons, 25 shall take effect until the provisions of this section have been complied with.
