In the One Hundred and Ninety-Third General Court (2023-2024)

An Act relative to electronic meetings and voting in condominiums.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 Chapter 183A of the General Laws is hereby amended by adding the following section:-

2 Section 24. Notwithstanding any provisions in the master deed, declaration of trust or 3 bylaws of any condominium submitted to the provisions of this chapter to the contrary:

4 (a) The governing body of the organization of unit owners may conduct any regularly 5 scheduled or special meeting of said governing body by telephonic or video conference call, or 6 by interactive electronic communication process provided that all participants can hear all 7 conversations. Presence by such electronic means shall constitute presence for purposes of any 8 quorum requirements. The governing body may vote on any action properly before them and 9 approve minutes of any meeting through the use of electronic means as approved by the

10 governing body, including, but not limited to, email, video conferencing, fax machine, or PDF
11 files transmitted over the internet.

12 (b) The governing body of the organization of unit owners may conduct any annual 13 or special meeting of the unit owners where the unit owners are not physically present at the 14 meeting, but are able to participate in said meeting by telephonic or video conference call, or by 15 other interactive electronic communication process as determined by the governing body. In the 16 event the governing body determines to hold any such unit owner meeting by telephonic, video 17 or other electronic communication process, the governing body shall notify all unit owners of 18 that decision in the notice of such meeting, and provide access information to allow all unit 19 owners to participate in such meeting by such telephonic, video or other interactive electronic 20 communication process. Participation by a unit owner via telephonic, video or other interactive 21 electronic communication process shall constitute presence at the meeting for purposes of any 22 quorum requirements. Any unit owner meetings held by telephonic, video or other interactive 23 electronic communication process shall provide reasonable measures to ensure that unit owners 24 are afforded an opportunity to participate in the meeting, including the ability to read or hear the 25 proceedings of the meeting and pose questions and comments.

26 (c) The governing body of the organization of unit owners may permit the unit 27 owners to vote on any matters properly before such unit owners by mail-in ballot or by electronic 28 means (including by website, voting software and/or e-mail voting) provided that unit owners
29 constituting a quorum participate in such vote. The governing body may, from time to time, 30 pursuant to its rule-making authority set forth in the governing documents of the organization of 31 unit owners, promulgate and amend policies related to the use and implementation of electronic 32 meetings and voting. In the event the master deed, declaration of trust, or bylaws of the 33 condominium, or any provisions of MGL c. 183A require the signature or written consent of the 34 unit owners for a certain matter, unit owners shall be entitled to submit their signatures or written 35 consents using electronic means as determined by the governing body.
