1 SECTION 1. Chapter 184 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section
2 24 and inserting in place thereof the following section:-

3 Section 24. When any owner of land or of any interest in such land, signs an instrument
4 in writing conveying or purporting to convey his land or any interest therein, or in any manner
5 affecting or purporting to affect his title thereto or an interest therein, and the instrument, 6 whether or not entitled to record or registration, is recorded or registered and indexed in the 7 registry of deeds or registered land district for the district wherein such land is situated, and a 8 period of ten years elapses after the instrument is accepted for record or registration, and the 9 instrument or the record or registration thereof because of defect, irregularity or omission fails to 10 comply in any respect with any requirement of law relating (1) to seals, corporate or individual, 11 (2) to the form of grantor clause in which a person purports to grant, mortgage, assign, release or 12 discharge an interest in real property as representative of or on behalf of a person, trust or entity

13 who owns or holds such interest and is also named in the grantor clause, (3) to the form or 35 notice and, in the event of such proceeding, unless relief is thereby in due course granted.

36           SECTION 2. The provisions of this Act shall apply to instruments and documents 37 recorded or registered before, on or after the effective date, except as to any such instruments or 38 documents for which a court proceeding challenging the effectiveness or validity of any such 39 instrument or document and the title derived therefrom has been commenced pursuant to this 40 section as in effect prior to said effective date.
