The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

In the Year Two Thousand Eleven

An Act improving apprehension of drunk drivers and other law violators.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1. Section 98A of Chapter 41 of the General Laws as appearing in the 2008 Official
2 Edition is amended by replacing the entire section with the following: A police officer of a city 3 or town may stop a person or vehicle in a city or town that borders the officer’s city or town if 4 the officer has reason to believe that the person or vehicle recently traveled through his or her 5 city or town under circumstances where the officer would have had the authority to stop the 6 person or vehicle for the purpose of making an arrest, placing an operator in protective custody,
7 issuing a citation or taking any other enforcement action. Said officer may return any person so 8 arrested or placed in protective custody to the jurisdiction wherein said offence was committed 9 or other condition or violation was observed. No criminal case shall be dismissed, and no

10 evidence in a criminal case shall be suppressed, based on the fact that a stop of a person or motor 11 vehicle did not comport with this section. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as 12 limiting the powers of a police officer to make arrests and in so far as possible this section shall 13 be deemed to be declaratory of the common law of the commonwealth.
