10 The colonel may, in the event of any public emergency, or of any unusual demand for the 11 services of members of the state police serving in any bureau of the department, or whenever he 12 deems it in the public interest, require such members to work additional hours of duty and 13 prevent such members from taking time off when entitled thereto, or at the time assigned 14 therefor; provided, however, that such members shall be compensated for any additional work in

21 fraudulently submitted, or otherwise purposely misrepresented information on any documents 22 pertaining to overtime payment for hours worked shall be suspended from the Department of 23 State Police until an investigation is conducted by the Office of the Inspector General. If the 24 employee is found to have falsified any overtime documentation, they shall be terminated from 25 the Department of State Police, effective immediately and suffer a loss of pension. Any 26 employee of the Department of State Police, having previously been found by said Department 27 to have falsified overtime payment reports, shall be immediately terminated, barred from future
28 employment with the Department of State Police, and suffer a loss of pension.
