An Act relative to the maintenance of private ways, bridges and common amenities in municipalities.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

1 SECTION 1: Chapter 84 of the General Laws shall be amended by striking out sections 2 12, 13 and 14 and inserting in place thereof the following eight sections:

3 Section 12. Definitions. For the purposes of sections 12A through 14A of this chapter, 4 the following terms shall have the following meanings:

5 “Benefited land” shall mean the land owned by a proprietor or rightful user which land 6 has an appurtenant right to use a private way, bridge or common amenity whether by easement, 7 grant, implication or otherwise.

8           “Bridge” shall mean a private bridge, whether paved or unpaved, that is not maintained, 9 repaired or replaced by a city or town or other governmental entity or authority.

10           “Common amenity” shall mean a private park, building, recreational facility, beach or the 11 like, privately owned utility line or system and appurtenances to such utility line or system, and 12 any and all appurtenances thereto or appurtenances to a private way or bridge including but not 13 limited to roadway rights of way, drainage, abutments, slopes, ramps, approaches, and landscape 14 and hardscape improvements, and in each case that is not maintained, repaired or replaced by a 15 city or town or other governmental entity or authority.

16           “Common association” shall mean a trust, corporation, limited liability company, or 17 unincorporated association established for the purpose of maintaining, repairing and replacing a 18 private way, bridge or common amenity, the beneficiaries, shareholders, or members of which 19 are all of the proprietors and rightful users owning benefited land that has an appurtenant right to 20 use such private way, bridge or common amenity whether by easement, grant, implication or 21 otherwise.

22           “Common association board” shall mean a governing or managing board of a common 23 association, as applicable, which board shall be created pursuant to and in accordance with 24 section 13B of this chapter.

25           “Common association members” shall mean the beneficiaries, shareholders, or members, 26 as applicable, of a common association.

27           “Maintenance process” shall mean the process for any one or more of the following (i) 28 maintenance, repair and replacement of private ways, bridges and common amenities, (ii) 29 contribution and collection of funds for administration and for such maintenance, repair and

30 replacement from proprietors and rightful users owning benefited land that has the appurtenant 31 right to use such private ways, bridges and common amenities whether by easement, grant, 32 implication or otherwise, (iii) making assessments on account thereof and increasing or 33 decreasing such assessments from time to time, (iv) establishing liens for unpaid assessments, 34 and (v) enforcing the obligation of proprietors and rightful users to pay such assessments 35 whether through foreclosure of such liens or otherwise.

36 “Prior recorded instrument” shall mean an instrument that was recorded at the time of the 37 establishment of a private way, bridge or common amenity or was recorded subsequent to the 38 establishment of such private way, bridge or common amenity with the consent of all proprietors 39 or rightful users owning benefited land that has the appurtenant right to use such private way, 40 bridge or common amenity whether by easement, grant, implication or otherwise, which 41 instrument in either such case was recorded prior to January 1, 2018.

42 “Private way” shall mean a private street, road or other way, whether paved or unpaved, 43 which is not maintained, repaired or replaced by a city or town or other governmental entity or 44 authority.

45 “Proprietor” shall mean the fee owner of land abutting a private way, bridge or common 46 amenity which land has an appurtenant right to use such private way, bridge or common amenity 47 whether by easement, grant, implication or otherwise.

48 “Recorded” shall refer to an instrument or document recorded with the registry of deeds 49 in accordance with chapter 183 or registered with the registry district of the land court in 50 accordance with chapter 185.

51 “Rightful user” shall mean any fee owner, other than a proprietor, of land which has an 52 appurtenant right to use a private way, bridge or common amenity whether by easement, grant, 53 implication or otherwise.

54 “Servitude” or “equitable servitude” shall mean an obligation of a proprietor or rightful 55 user, whether such obligation is actual or implied, to participate financially or otherwise in the 56 maintenance, repair and replacement of private ways, bridges or common amenities.

57 Section 12A. Equitable servitude created for maintenance, repair and replacement of 58 private ways, bridges and common amenities; duration of obligation. Notwithstanding any 59 general law or special law to the contrary, an obligation that provides for proprietors or rightful 60 users to be responsible for, or to participate financially or otherwise in, the maintenance, repair 61 and replacement of private ways, bridges, or common amenities, whether imposed as provided in 62 sections 12B through 14A, or by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction applying equitable 63 principles, shall be deemed to have created an equitable servitude, binding on all benefitted land 64 owned by each proprietor or rightful user, and not a condition or restriction. The establishment 65 of appurtenant rights to use a private way, bridge, or common amenity requiring maintenance, 66 repair or replacement shall be deemed to create a servitude for the maintenance, repair and 67 replacement of the private way, bridge, or common amenity. Such servitude shall continue as 68 long as the need for maintenance, repair or replacement continues and as long as the private way, 69 bridge, or common amenity remains private and is not maintained, repaired or replaced by a city 70 or town or other governmental entity or authority.

71 Notwithstanding any general law or special law or any provision of any recorded 72 instrument to the contrary, the obligation of any proprietors or rightful users of any private ways,

73 bridges or common amenities to maintain, repair or replace or contribute to the maintenance, 74 repair or replacement of such private ways, bridges, or common amenities shall continue as long 75 as the appurtenant right to use such private ways, bridges or common amenities continues and as 76 long as the private ways, bridges or common amenities remain private and are not maintained, 77 repaired or replaced by a city or town or other governmental entity or authority, regardless of 78 whether any recorded covenants, conditions and restrictions affecting such private ways, bridges, 79 or common amenities have expired. Such obligations of each proprietor and rightful user shall 80 continue regardless of whether such proprietor or rightful user exercises its right to use such 81 private way, bridge or common amenity, and shall continue notwithstanding any unilateral 82 release by such proprietor or rightful user of the right to use such private way, bridge or common 83 amenity. Notwithstanding the prior sentence, a proprietor or rightful user may disclaim an 84 appurtenant right to use a private way, bridge or common amenity which is granted to such 85 proprietor or rightful user subsequent to the date such proprietor or rightful user became the 86 owner of the benefitted land to which such right is appurtenant, and, upon the recording of such 87 disclaimer, such proprietor or rightful user and any successor owner of such benefitted land shall 88 have no further right to use the private way, bridge or common amenity that is the subject of the 89 disclaimer and shall have no further obligations with respect to the maintenance, repair and 90 replacement of such private way, bridge or common amenity or with respect to the payment of 91 the costs of such maintenance, repair and replacement. However, in no event may a proprietor or 92 rightful user disclaim any right to use a private way, bridge or common amenity that was created 93 as appurtenant to the benefitted land of such proprietor or rightful user, whether by express grant, 94 by implication or otherwise, prior to the date such proprietor or rightful user became the owner 95 of such benefitted land.

96           Section 12B. Maintenance process or common association established by prior recorded 97 instrument. The maintenance process with respect to any private way, bridge or common 98 amenity as stated in any prior recorded instrument relating to such private way, bridge or 99 common amenity shall remain in effect notwithstanding the fact that any covenants, conditions 100 or restrictions imposed by said prior recorded instrument have expired by the language of the 101 prior recorded instrument or by operation of law, and votes to amend such maintenance process 102 shall be as stated in the prior recorded instrument. If there is no provision in such prior recorded 103 instrument establishing the maintenance process for such private way, bridge or common 104 amenity, or if there is no procedure in such prior recorded instrument to amend such maintenance 105 process, the maintenance process for such private way, bridge or common amenity may be 106 established, or any amendments thereto may be adopted, by majority vote of proprietors and 107 rightful users owning benefited land which has the appurtenant right to use such private way, 108 bridge or common amenity at a meeting duly called and held pursuant to the terms of the prior 109 recorded instrument or, if such prior recorded instrument does not establish a procedure for 110 calling such a meeting, then by majority vote of such proprietors and rightful users attending, 111 whether personally appearing or by written and signed instruction or proxy, a meeting called and 112 held for that purpose pursuant to section 13 of this chapter.

113           Any common association created by a prior recorded instrument to implement the 114 maintenance process established by such prior recorded instrument shall be governed by the 115 provisions of that prior recorded instrument. If there is no common association created by a prior 116 recorded instrument to implement the maintenance process established by such prior recorded 117 instrument, or if there is no procedure in such prior recorded instrument to amend the structure of 118 or provisions governing such common association, the common association may be created, or 119 any amendments to the structure of or provisions governing such common association may be 120 adopted, by majority vote of proprietors and rightful users owning benefited land which has the 121 appurtenant right to use the applicable private way, bridge or common amenity at a meeting duly 122 called and held pursuant to the terms of the prior recorded instrument or, if such prior recorded 123 instrument does not establish a procedure for calling such a meeting, then by majority vote of 124 such proprietors and rightful users attending, whether personally appearing or by written and 125 signed instruction or proxy, a meeting called and held for that purpose pursuant to section 13 of 126 this chapter. The creation of any common association pursuant to this section, or any 127 amendments adopted pursuant to this section with respect to a common association created by a 128 prior recorded instrument, shall be governed by the provisions of section 13B of this chapter.

129           Section 13. Meeting of proprietors and rightful users to establish maintenance process or 130 common association. If four or more persons are the proprietors or rightful users of a private 131 way, bridge, or common amenity that is not governed or managed by a prior recorded instrument 132 or instrument previously adopted pursuant to section 13A of this chapter, then any three or more 133 of them may call a meeting for the purpose of establishing a maintenance process for such 134 private way, bridge or common amenity, or for the purpose of establishing a common 135 association, or both, by mailing notice of the date, time and place of the meeting by certified and 136 first class mail, postage prepaid, to each proprietor and rightful user of the private way, bridge or 137 common amenity that is the subject of the proposed maintenance process or common association 138 at least 14 days before the time appointed for the meeting and addressed to those persons and 139 addresses appearing in the records of the assessor for the city or town in which the benefited land 140 owned by the proprietors and rightful users is located, and by publishing a copy of said notice at

141 least once, not less than 14 days before the day of the meeting, in a newspaper with general 142 circulation in the city or town where such benefited land lies.

143         The maintenance process, or the common association, its initial common association 144 board, and its terms and provisions as set forth in section 13B of this chapter, shall be created 145 upon a majority vote of the proprietors and rightful users attending, whether personally 146 appearing or by written and signed instruction or proxy, such meeting. Once the maintenance 147 process has been established, then all proprietors and rightful users, including those not in 148 attendance at the meeting, shall automatically become subject to and have the benefit of the 149 maintenance process. Once the common association has been created, then all proprietors and 150 rightful users, including those not in attendance at the meeting, shall automatically become 151 common association members and subject to the terms and provisions of the common 152 association. Any maintenance process or common association established or amended at a 153 meeting called and held pursuant to this Section 13 shall be required to be established or 154 amended in a manner that is fair and equitable towards all proprietors and rightful users subject 155 to such maintenance process or common association, as applicable.

156         Section 13A. Maintenance process or common association established by meeting of 157 proprietors and rightful users. If there is no maintenance process or procedures to amend a 158 maintenance process established by a prior recorded instrument or instrument previously adopted 159 pursuant to this section with respect to a private way, bridge or common amenity, then the 160 maintenance process for such private way, bridge or common amenity, and the procedures for 161 adopting amendments to the maintenance process, may be established by majority vote of the 162 proprietors and rightful users attending, whether personally appearing or by written and signed 163 instruction or proxy, a meeting called and held for that purpose pursuant to section 13 of this

164 chapter. The existence of a maintenance process that has been established pursuant to section 165 12B of this chapter or this section 13A shall be set forth in a document that shall be duly 166 recorded, which document shall certify that the maintenance process has been established in 167 accordance with the provisions of said section 12B or this section 13A, as applicable, shall 168 certify that the notice provisions of section 13 have been complied with, where applicable,
169 including a statement of the place and date of publication of notice of any meeting held pursuant 170 to said section 13, and shall be signed and acknowledged by at least two of the proprietors and 171 rightful users owning benefited land. The document recorded pursuant to this section shall also 172 set forth the names of a list of the owners of all benefitted land as of the date of recording, 173 including a reference to the deed, certificate of title or other source of the title of each such 174 owner to the benefitted land owned by such owner. Such recorded document shall also include 175 a description of the private ways, bridges or common amenities that are the subject of the 176 maintenance process by metes and bounds description, or by reference to a plan recorded 177 previously or together with such recorded document, or by reference to the prior recorded 178 instrument or instruments establishing such private ways, bridges or common amenities, or by 179 any other means which allows the nature, location and extent of the private ways, bridges or 180 common amenities to be reasonably determined from the recorded document setting forth the 181 existence of the maintenance process. The recorded document shall include such additional 182 information regarding the maintenance process as may be determined to be appropriate by the 183 proprietors and rightful users establishing the maintenance process. Changes in the maintenance 184 process subsequent to the recording of such document shall be stated in a certificate evidencing a 185 vote of the proprietors and rightful users adopting such change, which certificate shall be signed 186 and acknowledged by at least one of the proprietors or rightful users and shall be duly recorded.

187 Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph, the existence of a maintenance 188 process that has been established pursuant to section 12B of this chapter or this section 13A may 189 be set forth in a document executed and recorded pursuant to section 13B of this chapter 190 evidencing the formation of a common association that will oversee such maintenance process, 191 and a separate document executed and recorded pursuant to this paragraph shall not be required.

192         If there is no prior recorded instrument or instrument previously adopted pursuant to this 193 section establishing a common association to implement a maintenance process established 194 pursuant to this section, then such common association may be established by majority vote of 195 the proprietors and rightful users attending, whether personally appearing or by written and 196 signed instruction or proxy, a meeting called and held for that purpose pursuant to section 13 of 197 this chapter. A single such meeting may be called and held for the purpose of establishing both a 198 maintenance process and a common association; provided, however, that it shall be permissible 199 to establish a maintenance process without establishing also a common association. The creation 200 of any common association pursuant to this section shall be governed by the provisions of 201 section 13B of this chapter.

202         Section 13B. Provisions governing common association. The provisions of this section 203 shall govern any common association not in existence pursuant to a prior recorded instrument but 204 instead created pursuant to section 12B or section 13A of this chapter. In addition, any 205 amendments adopted pursuant to section 12B of this chapter with respect to a common 206 association in existence pursuant to a prior recorded instrument shall comply with the provisions 207 of this section. Once a common association governed by the provisions of this section has been 208 created, all proprietors and rightful users shall automatically become common association 209 members. No proprietor or rightful user shall be required to pay any membership fee as a

210 requirement to belonging to such common association. Administration and maintenance fees 211 and fees for repair and replacement as determined by such common association shall not be 212 deemed to be membership fees. Any common association governed by the provisions of this 213 section shall be required to have a common association board, which common association board 214 shall have not less than three members. The members of the common association board shall 215 each serve a term as determined by majority vote of the proprietors and rightful users attending, 216 whether personally appearing or by written and signed instruction or proxy, the meeting called 217 and held for the purpose of establishing the common association or amending the structure of or 218 provisions governing such common association pursuant to section 13 of this chapter. The 219 members of the common association board shall be elected by majority vote of the proprietors 220 and rightful users attending, whether personally appearing or by written and signed instruction or 221 proxy, a meeting called and held for that purpose. The common association board shall hold a 222 general meeting at least once per year, wherein proprietors and rightful users belonging to the 223 common association may be heard. The common association board shall reach decisions 224 regarding the management and implementation of the maintenance process and matters within 225 the other powers of the common association board through a majority vote. The common 226 association board may call additional meetings as deemed necessary by the common association 227 board or at the request of three or more proprietors and rightful users. Notice of all meetings 228 shall be mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid, or otherwise delivered to all known 229 proprietors and rightful users at least fourteen days before the meeting. If the common 230 association board fails or refuses to call a meeting when required or when petitioned to do so by 231 three or more proprietors and rightful users, the proprietors and rightful users may convene such 232 a meeting by giving notice of such meeting mailed by first class mail, postage prepaid, or 233 otherwise delivered to all known proprietors and rightful users at least fourteen days before the 234 meeting. Once a common association has been created, any meeting of the common association 235 board or of the proprietors and rightful users shall be governed by the by-laws and rules 236 established by the common association. No duly called meeting of the proprietors and rightful 237 users shall be deemed invalid if reasonable efforts were made to notify all proprietors and 238 rightful users who were known at the time the meeting notices were mailed or delivered.

239         A common association shall have the power to do anything reasonably necessary to 240 manage and implement the maintenance process. In addition to seeking court enforcement, the 241 common association may adopt reasonable rules and procedures to encourage compliance and 242 deter violations, including the imposition of fines, penalties, late fees, and, if and to the extent 243 authorized by the documents creating and governing the common association, the withdrawal of 244 privileges to use private ways, bridges and common amenities. The common association shall 245 have the power to make substantial alterations, improvements, and additions to private ways, 246 bridges and common amenities only if such alteration, improvement or addition has been 247 approved by a vote of not less than seventy-five percent of proprietors and rightful users 248 attending, whether personally appearing or by written and signed instruction or proxy, a meeting 249 called for that purpose. The documents governing the common association may define the 250 alterations, improvements or additions that shall be deemed substantial for the purposes of the 251 preceding sentence, and any such definition shall be binding on the association members. Funds 252 may be raised by levying assessments against the benefited land owned by the proprietors and 253 rightful users, and by charging fees for services or, if and to the extent authorized by the 254 documents creating and governing the common association, for the use of the private ways, 255 bridges, and common amenities by proprietors and rightful users. Such fees must be reasonably

256 related to the costs of maintenance, repair and replacement of the private ways, bridges and 257 common amenities and related administration costs. A common association shall have the power 258 to sue and be sued. Common associations shall have the duty to act fairly and equitably towards 259 all the common association members. Actions to collect maintenance and other fees may be 260 taken in the superior court in the county or the district court in the district where the property 261 subject to the servitude lies.

262         The name and mailing address of the common association which has been formed 263 pursuant to section 12B or section 13A of this chapter shall be stated in a document that shall be 264 duly recorded, which document shall certify that the common association has been formed in 265 accordance with the provisions of said section 12B or said section 13A, as applicable, shall 266 certify that the notice provisions of section 13 have been complied with, where applicable,
267 including a statement of the place and date of publication of notice of any meeting held pursuant 268 to said section 13, and shall be signed and acknowledged by at least two of the proprietors and 269 rightful users who are members of such common association. If the common association has 270 been formed pursuant to a prior recorded instrument referencing such common association or for 271 the purpose of overseeing the maintenance process set forth in a prior recorded instrument, the 272 document recorded pursuant to this section shall also include the recording information for that 273 prior recorded instrument. The document recorded pursuant to this section shall also set forth the 274 names of the members of the common association board and a list of the owners of all benefitted 275 land as of the date of recording, including a reference to the deed, certificate of title or other 276 source of the title of each such owner to the benefitted land owned by such owner. Such 277 recorded document shall also include a description of the private ways, bridges or common 278 amenities overseen by the common association by metes and bounds description, or by reference

279 to a plan recorded previously or together with the common association document, or by reference 280 to the prior recorded instrument or instruments establishing such private ways, bridges or 281 common amenities, or by any other means which allows the nature, location and extent of the 282 private ways, bridges or common amenities to be reasonably determined from the common 283 association document. The recorded document shall set forth the powers of the common 284 association and the procedures for governance of the association, or shall reference the recording 285 information for any separately recorded bylaws or other governing documentation for the 286 common association setting forth such powers and procedures. The recorded common 287 association document shall be indexed to the name of the association as well as in the chain of 288 title for each owner of benefitted land or, in the event of registered land, endorsed on the 289 memorandum of encumbrances for the certificate of title for each owner of benefitted land, as 290 applicable. Subsequent amendments, changes in the association board, and other documents 291 affecting the common association shall be accepted for recording by the registry of deeds, 292 assessed a single document recording fee and entered in the grantor index under the name of the 293 association; or, in the event of registered land, the land registration office shall either (a) endorse 294 such subsequent document on the memorandum of encumbrances for the certificate of title for 295 each owner of benefitted land, or (b) issue a master certificate of title for the common association 296 and shall endorse on its memorandum of encumbrances the common association document and 297 any concurrently or subsequently filed amendments, changes in the association board, and other 298 documents affecting the common association, and in either event the land registration office shall 299 assess only a single document recording fee for the subsequent association document and shall 300 not assess a recording fee multiplied by the number of certificates of title for the benefitted land.

301 Changes in the members of the common association board, or changes in the mailing 302 address of the common association subsequent to the recording of such document, shall be stated 303 in a certificate signed and acknowledged by at least one member of the common association 304 board then appearing of record, or by a vote of the proprietors and rightful users and signed and 305 acknowledged by at least one of the proprietors or rightful users, and such certificate or vote 306 shall be duly recorded. Persons may rely in good faith upon any such recorded document or the 307 most recently recorded certificate or vote as to the names of the members of the common 308 association board and the address of the common association. Notices sent in writing to the 309 address listed in the recorded document or the most recently recorded certificate or vote, if relied 310 upon in good faith, shall be deemed sufficiently given; provided, however, that the person or 311 entity sending the notice has complied with the other requirements of sections 12A through 14A 312 of this chapter, as applicable.

313 Section 14. Assessments; lien. Any common association that is created pursuant to 314 sections 12B or 13A, and any common association created by a prior recorded instrument that 315 elects to be subject to this section in the manner hereinafter provided , shall have a lien on the 316 benefited land and the improvements thereon owned by each proprietor and rightful user for any 317 assessment levied against such land and improvements pursuant to the provisions governing the 318 maintenance process managed and implemented by the common association, such lien to exist 319 from the time the assessment becomes due, and shall be enforceable under this section. A 320 common association created by prior recorded instrument may elect to be subject to this section 321 (a) by majority vote of the proprietors and rightful users attending a meeting called and held for 322 that purpose in accordance with the governing procedures of such common association, notice of 323 which meeting shall specifically indicate that a vote will be held at the meeting to determine

324 whether the common association will adopt this section, and (b) by causing an instrument 325 evidencing such election to be signed and acknowledged by at least two of the proprietors and 326 rightful users who are members of such common association, which instrument shall include a 327 certification that the election was made at a meeting called and held in accordance with the 328 provisions of this section 14, shall include the name and mailing address of the common 329 association, and shall also set forth the names of the members of the common association board 330 and a list of the owners of all benefitted land as of the date of recording, including a reference to 331 the deed, certificate of title or other source of the title of each such owner to the benefitted land 332 owned by such owner, and by causing such instrument to be duly recorded and indexed to the 333 name of the association as well as in the chain of title for each owner of benefitted land or, in the 334 event of registered land, endorsed on the memorandum of encumbrances for the certificate of 335 title for each owner of benefitted land, as applicable. In no event shall any common association 336 have a lien pursuant to this section for any assessment that becomes due prior to the creation of 337 such common association pursuant to sections 12B or 13A or, in the case of a common 338 association created by a prior recorded instrument, prior to the recording of an instrument of 339 election pursuant to the preceding sentence.

340         If any expense is incurred by the common association as a result of the proprietor's or 341 rightful user's failure to abide by the requirements imposed with respect to such maintenance 342 process, the common association may assess that expense exclusively against the proprietor or 343 rightful user and such assessment shall constitute a lien on the benefitted land and the 344 improvements thereon owned by such proprietor or rightful user from the time the assessment is 345 due, and such assessment shall be enforceable under this section. The common association may 346 also assess any fees, attorneys' fees, charges, late charges, fines, costs of collection and

347 enforcement, court costs, and interest charged pursuant to the provisions of the applicable 348 maintenance process against the proprietor or rightful user and such assessment shall constitute a 349 lien on the benefited land and the improvements thereon owned by such proprietor or rightful 350 user from the time the assessment is due, and shall be enforceable under this section. The 351 proprietor or rightful user shall be personally liable for all sums assessed by the common 352 association pursuant to the provisions governing the maintenance process managed and 353 implemented by the common association, including late charges, fines, penalties, and interest 354 assessed by the common association and all costs of collection including attorneys' fees, costs, 355 and charges.

356         When any portion of a proprietor's or rightful user's share of the charges, fees and 357 expenses assessed against the benefited land and the improvements thereon owned by such 358 proprietor or rightful user has been delinquent for at least sixty days, the common association 359 shall send a notice stating the amount of the delinquency to the proprietor or rightful user by 360 certified and first class mail. A lien under this section shall be enforced in the manner provided 361 in sections five and five A of chapter two hundred and fifty-four. Neither this section nor 362 anything contained in sections five or five A of chapter two hundred and fifty-four shall be 363 deemed to prohibit actions to recover sums for which this section creates a lien or to prohibit a 364 common association from taking a deed in lieu of enforcement of the lien created by this 365 section. Nothing herein shall be construed to prevent a common association from adopting or 366 amending the procedures for managing and implementing the maintenance process whether 367 pursuant to the provisions of a prior recorded instrument or in accordance with the provisions of 368 sections 12B or 13A of this chapter to provide additional protections, remedies, or rights for said

369 common association in connection with the creation and enforcement of the liens referenced 370 above in this section.

371 The creation and enforcement of any lien created by a prior recorded instrument shall be 372 enforceable in accordance with, and governed by, the provisions of this section, notwithstanding 373 any provisions to the contrary contained within said prior recorded instrument. Notwithstanding 374 the aforesaid, nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent or prohibit any 375 common association, whether created pursuant to sections 12B or 13A or created by a prior 376 recorded instrument, from exercising other rights of enforcement available at common law, by 377 statute or otherwise.

378 Section 14A. Statement of amounts due. A statement executed and acknowledged by 379 one or more members of the common association board stating that all assessments and other 380 sums which have been assessed against the benefited land identified in the statement and the 381 improvements thereon have been paid through the date set forth in such statement shall, when 382 recorded, operate to discharge the land and improvements thereon from any lien for any 383 assessments or other sums owed prior to the date set forth in such statement. The statement shall 384 be furnished within ten business days after receipt of a written request, upon payment of a 385 reasonable fee, and shall be binding on the common association and every proprietor and rightful 386 user; provided, however, that no fee shall be required of any mortgagee, in connection with a 387 foreclosure of a mortgage, who has given the common association notice of its intention to 388 foreclose a mortgage upon the benefited land and the improvements thereon owned by a 389 proprietor or rightful user.

390 SECTION 2. Section 5 of Chapter 254 of the General Laws shall be amended by striking 391 out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following:

392 A lien upon land for the erection, alteration, repair or removal of a building or other 393 structure or other improvement of real property or for professional services relating thereto or a 394 lien established under section seventy-six of chapter sixty-three, section 14 of chapter eighty-395 four, or section 6 of chapter 183A shall be enforced by a civil action brought in the superior 396 court for the county where such land lies or in the district court in the judicial district where such 397 land lies.

398 SECTION 3. Section 5A of said chapter 254 shall be amended by striking out the first 399 sentence and inserting in place thereof the following:

400 When the amount of a lien under section 14 of chapter 84, section six of chapter 183A, or 401 section 29 of chapter 183B has been established by a court, the court shall enter an order 402 authorizing the sale of the real estate to satisfy such lien;” and by inserting after the first 403 paragraph, the following new paragraph:

404 For a lien under section 14 of chapter 84, such form shall be printed in substantially the 405 following form:
