290.410. 1. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the law, no employer shall [pay any 2 female in his employ at wage rates less than the wage rates paid to male employees in the same 3 establishment for the same quantity and quality of the same classification of work, provided that 4 nothing herein shall prohibit a variation of rates of pay for male and female employees engaged
5 in the same classification of work based upon a difference in seniority, length of service, ability,
6 skill, difference in duties or services performed, difference in the shift or time of day worked,
7 hours of work, or restrictions or prohibitions on lifting or moving objects in excess of specified
8 weight, or other reasonable differentiation, or factors other than sex, when exercised in good 9 faith] discriminate in providing compensation based on gender for equal work, the 10 performance of which requires equal skill, effort, and responsibility, and which is 11 performed under similar working conditions.

13 unlawful for an employer to pay different wage rates to employees if such payments are 14 made pursuant to:

16 (2) A system that measures earnings by quantity or quality of production;

17 (3) Any bona fide factor other than gender, provided that wage differentials based 18 on varying market rates for equal jobs shall not be considered differentials based on bona 19 fide factors other than gender; or

20 (4) Bona fide regional economic differentials.

21 3. An employer who is paying wages in violation of this section shall not, in order 22 to comply with this section, reduce the wage of any employee.

23 4. No employer shall discharge or take any adverse action or otherwise discriminate 24 against any individual because such individual has:

25 (1) Opposed any act or practice made unlawful by this section; or

26 (2) Testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, hearing, 27 or other proceeding to enforce this section.

28 5. No employer shall discharge, take any adverse action, or otherwise discriminate
29 against, coerce, intimidate, threaten, or interfere with any employee because such employee

11 jury trial.

12 3. [The burden of proof shall be upon the person bringing the claim to establish that the 13 differentiation in rate of pay is based upon the factor of sex and not upon other differences or 14 factors.] In the event of a finding that an employer has violated this section, a court may 15 enjoin such employer from future violations of section 290.410, and may order the 16 employer to take such additional steps as are necessary, including reclassification of 17 affected workers to ensure an end to the employer's gender-based pay practices or, if the 18 employer has engaged in unlawful retaliation prohibited by section 290.410, the court may the employer of written notice of claim thereof from the female employee.]
