12 provided in [section 7].

13 (5) "Surviving spouse's property" means the property that consists of the surviving spouse's
14 property that is not Montana special spousal property and the surviving spouse's share of the special spousal
15 property determined as of the date of the first spouse's death.

16

17 NEW SECTION. Section 3. Arrangement qualifying as special spousal trust -- state law or
18 jurisdiction provision valid, effective, and conclusive. (1) An arrangement is a Montana special spousal
19 trust if one or both spouses in a marriage transfer property to a trust, the trust expressly declares that some or 20 all the property transferred is Montana special spousal property as provided in [sections 1 through 15], and at 21 least one trustee is a qualified person. A Montana special spousal trust is enforceable without consideration.
22 Both spouses or either spouse may be a trustee. The trust must be signed by both spouses. The trust may be 23 revocable or irrevocable.

24 (2) (a) Except as expressly provided by the terms of a governing instrument or by a court order, a
25 general law or a state jurisdiction provision stating that the laws of this state govern is valid, effective, and 26 conclusive for a Montana special spousal trust if all of the following are true:

27 (i) some or all of the trust assets are deposited in this state or physical evidence of the assets is 28 held in this state and the trust is being administered by a qualified person;

1 (ii) a trustee is a qualified person who is designated as a trustee under the governing instrument, a
2 successor trusteeship, or designated by a court having jurisdiction over the trust; and

3 (iii) the administration, for example, physically maintaining trust records in this state and preparing
4 or arranging for the preparation of, on an exclusive basis or a nonexclusive basis, an income tax return that

8 similar account or deposit that is located in this state, including state investments.

9 (3) This state and the courts of this state have jurisdiction over a trust created in a foreign
10 jurisdiction if the administration of the trust meets the three requirements in subsection (2)(a).

11 (4) Nothing in this section may be construed to be the exclusive means of providing a valid,
12 effective, and conclusive state jurisdiction provision.

13

14 NEW SECTION. Section 4. Required language. A Montana special spousal trust must contain the 15 following language in at least 14-point type and capital letters at the beginning of the trust:

16 "THE CONSEQUENCES OF THIS TRUST MAY BE VERY EXTENSIVE, INCLUDING YOUR RIGHTS
17 WITH RESPECT TO CREDITORS AND OTHER THIRD PARTIES, AND YOUR RIGHTS WITH YOUR 18 SPOUSE BOTH DURING THE COURSE OF YOUR MARRIAGE, AT THE TIME OF A DIVORCE, AND AT 19 THE DEATH OF YOU OR YOUR SPOUSE. ACCORDINGLY, THIS TRUST AGREEMENT SHOULD ONLY BE 20 SIGNED AFTER CAREFUL CONSIDERATION. IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS ABOUT THIS TRUST
21 AGREEMENT, YOU SHOULD SEEK INDEPENDENT LEGAL ADVICE."

22

23 NEW SECTION. Section 5. Classification of property -- interest of each spouse. Spouses may 24 classify all or any of their property as special spousal property by transferring property to a Montana special
25 spousal trust established pursuant to [sections 1 through 15], and by expressly declaring in the trust that the 26 property is community property. Unless there is a specific provision in the governing instrument stating 27 otherwise, each spouse's respective interest in the special spousal property is 50%.

28

1 NEW SECTION. Section 6. Amendment and revocation. A Montana special spousal trust may not
2 be amended or revoked unless the trust agreement provides for amendment or revocation, or unless the trust
3 agreement is amended or revoked by a later Montana special spousal trust. To amend or revoke the trust, the 4 later Montana special spousal trust is not required to declare any property held by the trustee as special
5 spousal property. The amended trust or the revocation is enforceable without consideration. However,
6 notwithstanding the other provisions of [sections 1 through 15], unless the Montana special spousal trust
7 expressly provides otherwise, at any time after the death of the first spouse the surviving spouse may amend
8 the Montana special spousal trust with regard to the surviving spouse's property to be disposed of at the 9 surviving spouse's death.

10
11 NEW SECTION. Section 7. Application of Internal Revenue Code -- community property
12 classified by another jurisdiction -- state income taxes. (1) For purposes of the application of section
13 1014(b)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code, 26 U.S.C. 1014(b)(6), a Montana special spousal trust is considered
14 a trust established under the community property laws of Montana. Community property as classified by a
15 jurisdiction other than Montana transferred to a Montana special spousal trust retains its character as 16 community property while in the trust. If the trust is revoked and property is transferred on revocation of the 17 trust, the community property as classified by a jurisdiction other than Montana retains its character as 18 community property to the extent otherwise provided by law.

19 (2) The provisions of subsection (1) apply to determining the gain or loss from the sale or transfer
20 of property under Title 15, chapter 30, regardless of whether the property is considered community property
21 under the Internal Revenue Code.

22
23 NEW SECTION. Section 8. Types of transfers to special spousal trust. In addition to other
24 transfers of property to a Montana special spousal trust, property is considered transferred to a Montana

27 agreement, custodial agreement, deposit agreement, compensation plan, pension plan, individual retirement
28 plan, employee benefit plan, trust, conveyance, deed of gift, marital property agreement, or other written

1 instrument of a similar nature and the Montana special spousal trust is designated as a beneficiary to receive
 2 the property under the transfer. The property is considered the surviving spouse's property that is not Montana
 3 special spousal property.

4

5 NEW SECTION. Section 9. Records. The trustee of a Montana special spousal trust shall maintain
 6 records that identify which property held by the trust is Montana special spousal property and which property
 7 held by the trust is not Montana special spousal property.

8

9 NEW SECTION. Section 10. Matters upon which spouses may agree. Except as provided in 10 [sections 11 through 13], in a Montana special spousal trust, spouses may agree on:

 12 where the property is acquired or located;

13 (2) the management and control of the property transferred to the trust;

14 (3) the disposition of the property transferred to the trust on dissolution, death, or the occurrence
 15 or nonoccurrence of another event; if there is no provision in the governing instrument on disposition of the 16 property transferred to the trust on dissolution, state law on disposition of property on dissolution applies;

17 (4) the choice of law governing the interpretation of the trust; and

18 (5) any other matter that affects the property transferred to the trust and does not violate public
 19 policy or a statute imposing a criminal penalty.

20

21 NEW SECTION. Section 11. Right of child to support. Notwithstanding anything contained in 22 [section 10] to the contrary, a Montana special spousal trust may not adversely affect the right of a child to 23 support.

24

25 NEW SECTION. Section 12. Creditor rights -- good faith between spouses. Notwithstanding
 26 anything contained in [section 10] to the contrary:

27 (1) a provision of a revocable Montana special spousal trust does not adversely affect the interest
 28 of a creditor unless the creditor has actual knowledge of the trust when the obligation to the creditor is incurred.

1 The interest of a creditor in an irrevocable Montana special spousal trust may be subject to the rights and
2 liabilities of a creditor with respect to transfers in this state.

3 (2) a spouse shall act in good faith with respect to the other spouse in matters involving Montana
4 special spousal property. The obligation under and effect of this section may not be varied by a Montana
5 special spousal trust.

6
7 NEW SECTION. Section 13. Bona fide purchasers. Notwithstanding anything contained in [section
8 10] to the contrary:

9 (1) notice of the existence of a Montana special spousal trust, a marriage, or the termination of a 10 marriage does not affect the status of a purchaser as a bona fide purchaser; and

11 (2) special spousal property purchased by a bona fide purchaser from a spouse having the right to 12 manage and control the property is acquired free of any claim of the other spouse. The effect of this subsection
13 may not be varied by a Montana special spousal trust.

23 other spouse;

24 (ii) did not voluntarily sign a written waiver expressly waiving right to disclosure of the property and 25 financial obligations of the other spouse beyond the disclosure provided; and

26 (iii) did not have notice of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse.
