Research Analysis

HB 2457, as introduced, authorizes the Department of Commerce to establish the Oklahoma NextGen Employee Development Program to upskill the state's workforce in high-priority occupations in high-growth industries. The program will be funded with encumbered allocations from the Oklahoma Tax Commission and the NexGen Employee Development Program Revolving Fund. Employers must pay its employees at least $50,000 annually to qualify for reimbursements equal to 15 percent of the wages of a new hire, limited to $15,000 per new hire. The measure also provides desired outcomes for the program.

Fiscal Analysis

This measure creates the "Oklahoma NextGen Employee Development Program." While this measure creates a revolving fund for the program, it does not appropriate any state monies into the fund. Therefore, there is no fiscal or revenue impact to the state.
