Establishes an ordinance or resolution pertaining to construction materials adopted by a local government does not limit the professional judgement of a licensed design professional with respect to electrical, mechanical, or plumbing standards.

FISCAL IMPACT OF BILL WITH PROPOSED AMENDMENT:

Unchanged from the original fiscal note.

Assumptions for the bill as amended:

- Pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. § 68-120-101, the State Fire Marshal establishes minimum statewide building standards for the design, construction, alteration, and repair of state, municipal, county, and private buildings. The standards are prohibited from discriminating against or favoring a particular construction material or technique.
- The SFMO will not lose any regulatory authority and will not be significantly impacted.

- Pursuant to Tenn. Code Ann. § 68-120-101(b), a county or municipality can vote to exempt the local entity from statewide building standards for one and two-family dwellings.
- The proposed legislation establishes that a regulation, ordinance, or code adopted cannot prohibit a particular building material that is approved by a national building code or the SFMO. Any such regulation is required to contain a provision allowing for the waiver of the adopted regulation.
- Authorizing a local government to pass an ordinance or resolution pertaining to construction materials will not significantly impact the current exemption authorization from statewide building standards for one and two-family dwellings afforded to local governments; therefore, the fiscal impact to state and local government is not significant.
