2 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

3 Congress finds the following:

4 (1) The United States economy has faced for-
 5 midable obstacles since the country entered an eco-
 6 nomic recession in 2008. Homeowners face chal-
 7 lenges with high mortgage delinquency and fore-8 closure, unemployment is high, particularly for the 9 most vulnerable in society, and poverty continues to 10 rise, as the rate stood at 15 percent in 2011, the 11 highest rate since 1994. Joblessness and economic 12 insecurity contribute to the incidence of mental ill-
 13 ness, family violence, suicide, substance abuse,
 14 crime, and diminished capacity for health, family,
 15 and community functioning. Social workers form so-

1       ciety’s social safety net. They provide assistance, 2       guidance, and resources to individuals, families, and 3       communities in poverty. They understand the dev-
4       astating costs and consequences of poverty and un-5       employment and provide direct services in order to 6       prevent and abate economic inequality.

7               (2) The Bureau of Labor Statistics states that 8       employment for social workers is expected to in-9       crease faster than the average for all occupations
10      through the year 2018, demonstrating a substantial 11      need for social workers.

12              (3) Social work salaries are among the lowest
13      for professionals in general and for those with mas-14      ter’s level education in particular. According to the 15      National Association of Social Workers Center for 16      Workforce Studies, 60 percent of full-time social 17      workers earn between $35,000 and $59,999 per 18      year. Social workers who earn lower salaries are 19      more likely to work in challenging agency environ-20      ments, serve more vulnerable clients, and leave the 21      profession.

22              (4) The Department of Education stated that 23      72 percent of students graduating from Master of 24      Social Work programs incurred debt to earn their

1 graduate degree. The average debt was approxi-
2 mately $35,500.

3 (5) Social workers often deal with the most vul-
4 nerable clients in emotional or traumatic situations, 5 and face possible danger as a result. The National 6 Association of Social Workers Center for Workforce
7 Studies found that 44 percent of survey respondents
8 faced personal safety issues on the job. The Occupa-
9 tional Safety and Health Administration states that 10 48 percent of assaults occur in the health care and 11 social services industry.

12 (6) The Alzheimer's Association of America
13 states that 5,300,000 Americans, or 1 in every 8 in-14 dividuals over the age of 65, have Alzheimer's dis-
15 ease. Social workers in gerontology settings work 16 with older adults, including those with dementia, to 17 support their physiological, psychological, and social 18 needs through mental health therapy, caregiver and 19 family counseling, health education, program coordi-
20 nation, and case management.

21 (7) The Children's Defense Fund states that 22 every 41 seconds a child is confirmed as abused or 23 neglected and every 6 hours a child is killed from 24 abuse or neglect. The Administration for Children
25 and Families of the Department of Health and

1 Human Services states that 423,000 children were 2 in the United States foster care system in 2009.
3 Most children placed in foster care are placed due to 4 parental abuse or neglect. Research shows that pro-
5 fessional social workers employed in child welfare
6 agencies are more likely to find permanent homes
7 for children who were in foster care for 2 or more
8 years. Unfortunately, fewer than 40 percent of child 9 welfare workers are professional social workers.

10 (8) The Department of Health and Human 11 Services estimates that 26.2 percent of (or 1 in 4)
12 individuals in the United States age 18 or older ex-
13periences a diagnosable mental health disorder. Ad-
14ditionally, 1 in 5 children and adolescents experi-15ences a mental health disorder. At least 1 in 10, or 16about 6,000,000, young people have a serious emo-
17tional disturbance. Social workers provide the major-18ity of mental health counseling services in the 19United States, and are often the only providers of 20such services in rural areas.

21 (9) Social workers working with veterans and 22their families provide case management, crisis inter-23ventions, mental health interventions, housing and 24financial counseling, high-risk screening, and advo-
25cacy, among other services. The Department of Vet-

1        erans Affairs, which is the largest employer of social 2        workers (over 10,000 of whom are Master's pre-3        pared) in the Nation, estimates that there are 4        22,658,000 veterans in the United States. A once-5        declining veteran population is now surging and is in 6        dire need of mental health treatment to address
7        issues such as post-traumatic stress disorder, de-
8        pression, drug and alcohol addiction, and suicidal
9        tendencies.

10            (10) The American Cancer Society estimates
11        that there were 1,529,560 new cases of cancer and 12        569,490 deaths, or 1,500 deaths a day, in 2010
13        alone. The Centers for Disease Control and Preven-
14        tion report that there are over 1,000,000 people liv-
15        ing with HIV or AIDS in the United States, with 16        approximately 56,300 new cases diagnosed each 17        year. In 2009, 1,560,000 people received care from 18        the Nation's hospice providers. Health care and 19        medical social workers practice in areas related to all 20        of these circumstances and provide outreach for pre-21        vention and health promotion, help individuals and 22        their families adapt to their health conditions, con-
23        nect patients and family caregivers with community 24        services and supports, provide grief counseling, and 25        act as a liaison between individuals and their med-

1 ical team, helping patients make informed decisions
2 about their care.

3 (11) The Children’s Defense Fund notes that 4 every second a public school student is suspended
5 and that every 11 seconds a high school student
6 drops out. The National Center for Education Sta-
7 tistics states that in 2008 the national dropout rate
8 for high school students was 8 percent. Some vulner-
9 able communities have dropout rates of 50 percent
10 or higher. Social workers in school settings help stu-
11 dents avoid dropping out through early identifica-
12 tion, prevention, intervention, counseling, and sup-
13 port services.

14 (12) According to the Department of Justice,
15 every year more than 650,000 ex-offenders are re-
16 leased from Federal and State prisons. Social work-
17 ers employed in the corrections system address dis-
18 proportionate minority incarceration rates, provide 19 treatment for mental health problems and drug and 20 alcohol addiction, and work within as well as outside
21 of the prison to reduce recidivism and increase posi-
22 tive community reentry.
