A BILL

To provide protection for survivors of domestic violence or sexual violence under the Fair Housing Act.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

3 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

4 This Act may be cited as the “Fair Housing for Do-
5 mestic Violence and Sexual Violence Survivors Act of 6 2021”.

1 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

2 Congress makes the following findings:

3 (1) Cities, towns, and rural communities in the 4 United States continue to face enormous challenges
5 regarding domestic violence, sexual assault, sex traf-
6 ficking, dating violence, stalking, and other forms of 7 intimate partner and gender-based violence.

8 (2) One in 3 women have experienced rape,
9 physical violence, or stalking by an intimate partner
10 in their lifetime.

11 (3) Approximately 7,000,000 women are raped
12 or physically assaulted by a current or former inti-
13 mate partner each year.

14 (4) Among women experiencing sex trafficking,
15 many of their traffickers are also their intimate 16 partners.

17 (5) Each day, an average of 3 women are killed
18 by a current or former partner.

19 (6) Researchers estimate that domestic violence
20 costs employers up to $13,000,000,000 each year.

21 (7) A fundamental component of ending domes-
22 tic and sexual violence is securing safe and afford-
23 able housing for victims.

24 (8) Research indicates that—

1 (A) nearly 50 percent of all homeless
2 women report that domestic violence was the 3 immediate cause of their homelessness;

4 (B) 92 percent of homeless women report
5 having experienced severe physical or sexual vi-
6 olence at some point in their lives, including 7 sexual exploitation and trafficking;

8 (C) victims become homeless as a result of 9 sexual assault, and once homeless, are vulner-
10 able to further sexual victimization and exploi-
11 tation including sex trafficking;

12 (D) women of color in the lowest income
13 category experience 6 times the rate of nonfatal
14 intimate partner violence compared to white
15 women in the highest income category;

16 (E) poor women of color, domestic violence
17 victims, and women with children have a high
18 risk of eviction;

19 (F) vulnerable women are also at risk of 20 sex trafficking and exploitation by landlords
21 who pressure them for sex in exchange for rent
22 or a delay in rent payments; and

23 (G) approximately 38 percent of all victims
24 of domestic violence become homeless at some 25 point in their life.

1 (9) Surveys show that a majority of victims who 2 experience a sexual assault in their home do not re-
3 locate to a safe environment because they do not
4 have sufficient funds and are not aware of better op-
5 tions.

6 (10) Domestic and sexual violence victims often 7 find themselves trapped in homes where they are 8 further victimized by caregivers, parents, siblings, 9 landlords, intimate partners, neighbors, or others in 10 or near their home. Economic insecurity and the 11 trauma that often follows sexual violence make it
12 difficult, if not impossible, for many victims to ac-
13 cess safe, affordable housing options for themselves
14 and their families.

15 (11) Domestic and sexual violence victims con-
16 tinue to face discrimination in securing and main-17 taining housing based on their status as victims and 18 as a result of crimes committed against them.

19 (12) Research by the Attorney General of the 20 State of New York found that 67 percent of domes-
21 tic violence victims reported that discrimination by 22 landlords is a significant obstacle in obtaining hous-
23 ing.

24 (13) Research also shows that victims of domes-
25 tic violence or sexual assault are commonly denied

1 housing opportunities if a previous residence of the 2 victim was a domestic violence shelter, if the victim
3 has secured a protective order, or if there is other 4 evidence that the victim has experienced a previous 5 domestic violence incident.

6 (14) Studies show that victims of domestic vio-
7 lence or sexual assault often face eviction based on 8 a single domestic violence incident.

9 (15) Victims of sex trafficking face additional 10 challenges in obtaining and maintaining housing due 11 to criminal records incurred as a direct result of 12 their exploitation.

13 (16) It is in the public interest to ensure that 14 victims of domestic violence, sexual assault, sex traf-
15 ficking, dating violence, stalking, and other forms of 16 intimate partner and gender-based violence are not 17 discriminated against, particularly with respect to 18 housing, based on their status as victims or the 19 crimes committed against them.

20 (17) Nothing in this Act should be interpreted 21 to limit the ability of victims of domestic violence or 22 sexual violence to recover for claims of discrimina-
23 tion on the basis of sex or race under the Fair
24 Housing Act (42 U.S.C. 3601 et seq.), including 25 with respect to failure to conform to gender stereo-

1 types or policies that disproportionately affect 2 women.
