RESOLUTION

Expressing support for a genuinely democratic repeat mayoral election in Istanbul, Turkey.

Whereas, on March 31, 2019, the Republic of Turkey held local elections across each of its 81 provinces;

Whereas this local election cycle included the election of 30 metropolitan and 1,351 district municipal mayors as well as 1,251 provincial and 20,500 municipal councilors;

Whereas more than 57,000,000 Turkish citizens were registered to vote and turnout was high with just under 85 percent of registered voters casting their vote;

Whereas this election was the first to be held since the country
transitioned from a parliamentary to a Presidential system;

Whereas following the release of electoral results indicating a victory by a candidate from the opposition Republican People's Party, the ruling Justice and Development Party (AKP) alleged that electoral irregularities invalidated the results of the election;

Whereas, on May 7, 2019, the Turkish Supreme Election Council announced its decision to invalidate the results of the Istanbul mayoral election, citing irregularities in the administration of the polling stations, even though the results of the Istanbul district and provincial council elections, which the AKP won, will stand;

Whereas a repeat election for Istanbul mayor has been called for June 23, 2019;

Whereas these developments contributed to a perception that the invalidation was politically motivated; and

Whereas such perceptions, regardless of their accuracy, can erode public confidence in electoral institutions: Now, therefore, be it
