5                             subparagraph:

6                             “(C) ADDITIONAL EXCEPTION.—For pur-
7                             poses of subsection (b)(10), an ‘emergency area’
8                             is a geographical area in which, and an ‘emer-
9                             gency period’ is the period during which, there 10                            exists a public health emergency declared by the 11                            Secretary pursuant to section 319 of the Public 12                            Health Service Act.”.

13                             (b) AUTHORIZATION.—Section 1895(e) of the Social 14                             Security Act (42 U.S.C. 1395fff(e)) is amended—

15                             (1) in paragraph (1), by striking “Nothing”
16                             and inserting “Subject to paragraph (2), nothing”;

18                             graph (3); and

19                             (3) by inserting after paragraph (1) the fol-20                             lowing new paragraph:

21                             “(2) EXCEPTION FOR PUBLIC HEALTH EMER-
22                             GENCIES.—Nothing in this section shall be con-23                             strued as preventing a home health agency fur-24                             nishing a home health unit of service for which pay-25                             ment is made under the prospective payment system

1       established by this section for such units of service
2       from furnishing services via a video or audio tele-
3       communication system if such services—

4                 “(A) are furnished pursuant to a waiver
5                 under section 1135(b)(10);

6                 “(B) constitute no more than 50 percent of 7                 the number of billable visits, consistent with the 8                 in-person visit equivalency determination, billed
9                 under the 30-day period of care established 10                under section 484.215(f) of title 42, Code of 11                Federal Regulations;

12                “(C) are furnished to a beneficiary under 13                a plan of care established by a physician or 14                practitioner with whom the beneficiary has an 15                existing care relationship prior to the receipt of 16                home health services that includes home health
17                services to be furnished via a video or audio 18                telecommunication system; and

19                “(D) such beneficiary consents to receiving 20                home health services via a video or audio tele-
21                communication system.”.

22       (c) IMPLEMENTATION.—

23               (1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall pre-24               scribe regulations to apply to home health services 25               furnished pursuant to the amendments made by this

1       Act, which shall become effective no later than 60
2       days after the date of enactment of this Act. The 3       Secretary shall issue an interim final rule, if nec-
4       essary, to comply with the required effective date.

5                 (2) CONSIDERATIONS.—In prescribing such reg-
6       ulations, the Secretary may consider including—

7                         (A) standards for the content of orders
8       and patient consent for such services;

9                         (B) documentation of such services pro-
10      vided and billing units of such services;

11                         (C) the nature and level of resources uti-12      lized for such services provided via video or 13      audio telecommunication systems for purposes
14      of determining equivalency with in-person visits
15      in establishing the payment for such services; 16      and

17                         (D) standards to ensure program integrity 18      and prevent the incidence of fraud, waste, and 19      abuse with respect to such services.
