IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

MARCH 12, 2020

Ms. DUCKWORTH (for herself, Mrs. FEINSTEIN, Mr. BROWN, Mr. SANDERS, Mr. DURBIN, Mr. BLUMENTHAL, Mr. BOOKER, Mr. REED, Mr. MENENDEZ, and Ms. WARREN) introduced the following bill; which was read twice and referred to the Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions

A BILL

To direct the Secretary of Labor to issue an emergency temporary standard that requires certain employers to develop and implement a comprehensive infectious disease exposure control plan to protect employees in the health care sectors and other employees at elevated risk from exposure to SARS-CoV-2, and for other purposes.

1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representa-
2 tives of the United States of America in Congress assembled,

1 SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE.

2 This Act may be cited as the “COVID–19 Health
3 Care Worker Protection Act of 2020”.

4 SEC. 2. FINDINGS.

5 Congress finds the following:

6 (1) The infectious disease COVID–19 presents
7 a grave danger to health care workers who are on 8 the first line of defense of the United States against 9 this epidemic.

10 (2) Hundreds of health care workers in the 11 United States have been infected or quarantined due
12 to exposure to patients with COVID–19. Surveys
13 conducted by health care worker unions and others
14 have found that many healthcare facilities are inade-
15 quately prepared to safely protect health care work-
16 ers who are exposed to the virus.

17 (3) Inadequate infection control precautions
18 have a detrimental impact on health care workers,
19 patients, and the public, and if there is breakdown
20 in health care worker protections, the Nation’s pub-
21 lic health system is placed at risk.

22 (4) The severe acute respiratory syndrome (re-23 ferred to in this section as “SARS”) epidemic of 24 2003 and 2004 in Canada, which involved a
25 coronavirus, resulted in a disproportionately large 26 number of infections of both health care workers and

1 patients in Ontario, Canada hospitals due to insufficient
2 infection control procedures involving SARS.

3 (5) The Occupational Safety and Health Ad-
4 ministration began rulemaking on a standard to pro-
5 tect health care workers from airborne and other in-
6 fectionous diseases in 2009. In 2017, the Trump Ad-
7 ministration suspended work on this rulemaking, re-
8 moving it from the active Regulatory Agenda.

9 (6) The Centers for Disease Control and Pre-
10 vention issued a document entitled “2007 Guideline
11 for Isolation Precautions: Preventing Transmission
12 of Infectious Agents in Healthcare Settings” in July, 13 2007. However, the guideline in such document is 14 not binding.

15 (7) Absent an enforceable standard, employers
16 lack mandatory requirements to implement an effec-
17 tive and ongoing infection and exposure control pro-
18 gram that provides protection to health care workers
19 from COVID–19.

20 (8) Section 6(e)(1) of the Occupational Safety
21 and Health Act of 1970 (29 U.S.C. 655(c)(1)) au-
22 thorizes the Occupational Safety and Health Admin-
23 istration to issue an emergency temporary standard
24 if employees are exposed to grave danger from 25 harmful agents or new hazards and if an emergency

1 standard is necessary to protect employees from 2 such danger. The widespread outbreak of COVID–
3 19 clearly satisfies these two conditions.

4 (9) The Occupational Safety and Health Ad-
5 ministration has received 2 petitions in March 2020
6 calling on the Occupational Safety and Health Ad-
7 ministration to issue an emergency temporary stand-
8 ard to protect workers from COVID–19.

9 (10) An emergency temporary standard is nec-
10 essary to ensure the immediate protection of workers
11 in health care workplaces and other high-risk work-
12 places identified by the Centers for Disease Control
13 and Prevention and the Occupational Safety and 14 Health Administration from infection related to 15 COVID–19.
