2D SESSION

S. RES. 630

Supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and recognizing its 75 years of accomplishments.

---

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

APRIL 9, 2024

Mr. RISCH (for himself, Mr. CARDIN, Mrs. SHAHEEN, and Mr. RICKETTS) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations

RESOLUTION

Supporting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and recognizing its 75 years of accomplishments.

Whereas the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) was founded on April 4, 1949, to “safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilisation of [its] peoples, founded on the principles of democracy, individual liberty and the rule of law”;

Whereas the United States Senate approved the North Atlantic Treaty of 1949 on July 21, 1949, and the United States Government acceded to membership in NATO on August 24, 1949;

Whereas NATO was originally founded to ensure the collective security of its members, and stand against the Soviet threat to peace and acts collectively to promote freedom, stability, and peace in the North Atlantic region;

Whereas, since the formation of NATO, 10 rounds of enlargement have grown the alliance from 12 members to 32;

Whereas NATO is the most successful political-military alliance in history and, guided by a set of common values, provides collective defense to more than 950,000,000 people living in its member nations;

Whereas the sustained commitment of NATO to mutual defense has contributed to the democratic and economic transformation of Central and Eastern Europe;

Whereas enlargement has strengthened NATO, and the Alliance remains open to additional enlargement for European states that advance the principles of the North Atlantic Treaty and contribute to the security of the North Atlantic area, in line with article 10 of the Treaty;

Whereas the newest members of the alliance, Finland and Sweden, contribute already interoperable militaries, including robust navies, powerful air forces, strong cyber capabilities, and large numbers of active military personnel and ready reservists to the alliance;

Whereas the allies invoked NATO's article 5 collective defense clause for the first and only time to offer political and military assistance to the United States in responding to the attacks of September 11, 2001;

Whereas NATO serves as a force multiplier, whose command structures, training institutions, and multilateral exercises have generated multinational contributions to United States national security priorities and enabled

European and Canadian soldiers to serve with members of the United States Armed Forces in various missions;

Whereas NATO is currently involved in several operations benefitting United States national security, including NATO's Kosovo Force (KFOR), Standing Naval Forces, Operation Sea Guardian, NATO Mission Iraq, and air policing missions in Eastern Europe;

Whereas, through the Partnership for Peace and Enhanced Forward Presence, NATO has extended opportunities for cooperation with non-NATO nations;

Whereas NATO members have stood against Russian aggression in Eastern Europe, reinforced existing battlegroups and established new ones, supported United States sanctions on the Russian Federation, and imposed their own sanctions measures in coordination with the United States and other allies;

Whereas the NATO Wales Summit Declaration of 2014 pledged, “Allies currently meeting the NATO guideline to spend a minimum of 2 percent of their Gross Domestic Product (GDP) on defence will aim to continue to do so . . . Allies whose current proportion of GDP spent on defence is below this level will: halt any decline in defence expenditure; aim to increase defence expenditure in real terms as GDP grows; aim to move towards the 2 percent guideline within a decade with a view to meeting their NATO Capability Targets and filling NATO’s capability shortfalls.”;

Whereas 22 NATO nations have increased their military spending since the Wales Declaration of 2014;

Whereas, at the NATO Vilnius Summit in 2023, member countries affirmed their commitment to spend “at least”

2 percent of GDP on defense, and noted that “in many cases, expenditure beyond 2 percent of GDP will be needed in order to remedy existing shortfalls and meet the requirements across all domains arising from a more contested security order”;

Whereas 20 NATO members still fall short of meeting their 2 percent commitment;

Whereas collective security demands real and sustained burden sharing;

Whereas NATO members that do not meet their 2 percent goal have a responsibility to the other member states and should rapidly address their budget shortfalls and prioritize defense spending;

Whereas NATO updated its Strategic Concept planning document in 2022 to recognize emerging threats to the alliance, including from the People’s Republic of China, and begin the process of adapting our collective approach to face them in the coming generation;

Whereas, at the NATO Vilnius Summit in 2023, NATO reaffirmed its commitment to its core values and take decisive action to defend them against threats across multiple domains;

Whereas nations must put defense spending in their base budgets to provide long-term certainty to NATO planners and their partners;

Whereas the Russian Federation’s invasion of Ukraine marks the largest military conflict in Europe since World War II, representing a dramatic shift for European security and requiring NATO to change its policies to increase, modernize, and enhance its force posture and to create more strategic depth to adequately confront new challenges;

Whereas, in adapting to growing aggression by the People's Republic of China, NATO has deepened its partnerships with Indo-Pacific allies, including South Korea, Japan, Australia, and New Zealand; and

Whereas section 1250A of the National Defense Authorization Act for Fiscal Year 2024 (Public Law 118–31) requires the advice and consent of the Senate for any President of the United States to suspend, terminate, denounce, or withdraw the United States from the North Atlantic treaty: Now, therefore, be it

1       Resolved, That the Senate—

2               (1) lauds NATO for its 75-year maintenance of
3               the alliance and recognizes its foundational contributions
4               to maintaining the safety, security, and democratic systems of its members;

6               (2) welcomes all NATO members and observers
7               as the United States hosts the 75th Annual Summit
8               in July 2024, in Washington, DC;

9               (3) recognizes the key role NATO has played in 10          enabling the most peaceful and prosperous period in 11          history for the North Atlantic area and also that
12          NATO does not only benefit the defense of its own
13          member states, but enhances security and stability
14          beyond its borders;

15              (4) appreciates the burden and sacrifice made
16          by each member nation and each service member

1 who has acted to maintain the collective security of
2 NATO;

3 (5) reaffirms that NATO members join by free
4 choice, not by compulsion or coercion, and that sov-
5 ereign nations should be free to choose with whom
6 they associate and enter into alliances without fear
7 of violent reprisal;

8 (6) continues to affirm the importance of Arti-
9 cle 5 of the North Atlantic Treaty;

10 (7) reaffirms the importance of nuclear deter-
11 rence in NATO planning and supports the mod-
12 ernization and development of new systems while
13 continuing risk-reduction discussions with our adver-
14 saries;

15 (8) reaffirms that all NATO territory is equally
16 under the protection of its collective defense;

17 (9) strongly calls on all NATO member states
18 to immediately meet their pledges and raise their de-
19 fense levels above the 2 percent GDP target, and to 20 more fully share the security burden by focusing on
21 meeting capabilities targets, enhancing interoper-
22 ability, improving readiness, and modernization to
23 respond to the threats that face the alliance on each
24 of its flanks;

1                         (10) urges all NATO member countries to meet
2                         their commitments to the principles of democracy,
3                         individual liberty, and the rule of law;

4                         (11) stands in robust support of those NATO
5                         members who spend 2 percent or more of their
6                         GDPs on defense and acknowledges the 8 countries
7                         that have met that goal since 2014;

8                         (12) welcomes the recent additions of Finland
9                         and Sweden to the alliance;

10                         (13) recognizes that NATO, in its planning
11                         processes, must take into account security threats to 12                         the alliance from around the world, including the 13                         People's Republic of China;

14                         (14) encourages NATO to build closer ties with 15                         the Indo-Pacific to confront the challenges posed by 16                         the deepening partnership and alignment between 17                         the Russian Federation and the People's Republic of 18                         China;

19                         (15) urges all members to consider the value
20                         that Ukraine will add to NATO's defense and sta-
21                         bility for Europe ahead of the Washington Summit
22                         in 2024; and

23                         (16) reaffirms the commitment of the United
24                         States to NATO's mission, and its belief that NATO
25                         is the most successful security alliance in our Na-

1       tion's history and one that should continue to be a
2       cornerstone of United States national security.
