Local Government UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not result in direct, measurable costs for local governments.

Individuals & Businesses UCA 36-12-13(2)(c)

This bill increases the maximum aggregate annual low-income housing tax credit that the Utah Housing Corporation may allocate. Enactment of this legislation could result in more taxpayers qualifying for the tax credit or for higher tax credit amounts. The aggregate benefit to all individuals who receive the credit is an estimated $8.8 million in FY 2024; $17.6 million in FY 2025, with the benefit increasing each year through FY 2033, reaching $87 million in FY 2033.

Regulatory Impact UCA 36-12-13(2)(d)

Enactment of this legislation likely will not change the regulatory burden for Utah residents or businesses.

Performance Evaluation JR1-4-601

This bill creates a new program or significantly expands an existing program. For a list of questions lawmakers might ask to improve accountability for the proposed program, please see: <https://budget.utah.gov/newprogram>

Notes on Notes

Fiscal notes estimate the direct costs or revenues of enacting a bill. The Legislature uses them to balance the budget. They do not measure a bill's benefits or non-fiscal impacts like opportunity costs, wait times, or inconvenience. A fiscal note is not an appropriation. The Legislature decides appropriations separately.
