Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

The bill creates a new B&O tax preference for costs related to converting a qualifying business to a worker-owned cooperative, employee ownership trust, or employee stock ownership plan.

TAX PERFORMANCE STATEMENT DETAILS

SECTION 4 provides a tax preference performance statement that categorizes the preference as intended to induce certain designated behavior by taxpayers, as indicated under RCW 82.32.808(2)(a).

The specific public policy objective is stated to encourage business owners to create an employee stock ownership plan or employee ownership trust, or to convert to a worker-owned cooperative that allows the company to share ownership with their employees without requiring employees to invest their own money.

If a review finds that the number of businesses in the state offering such plans or ones that have converted to worker-owned cooperatives has increased because of the tax credit, the Legislature intends the Legislative Auditor to recommend extending the expiration date of the preference.

JLARC staff is to access and use any relevant data collected by the state.

REST OF BILL AND TAX PREFERENCE DETAILS

SECTION 1 is a new section noting legislative findings on encouraging employee ownership structures.

SECTION 2 creates a new section in chapter 43.330 RCW establishing the Washington employee ownership program to support businesses considering a sale to an employee ownership structure and defining terms.

SECTION 3 creates a new section in chapter 43.330 RCW detailing membership requirements for the Washington employee ownership commission, and its responsibilities.

SECTION 5 is a new section in chapter 82.04 RCW allowing businesses to take a credit against their B&O tax for costs related to converting a qualifying business to a worker-owned cooperative, employee ownership trust, or an employee stock ownership plan. The credit is equal to: a) Up to 50% of conversion costs not exceeding $25,000 for converting to a worker-owned cooperative or an employee ownership trust; or b) Up to 50% of conversion costs not exceeding $100,000 for converting to an employee stock ownership plan.

Details on credit use are provided. Total annual credits statewide are capped at $2 million. Credits are authorized on a first-in-time basis. Further administrative details and definitions are provided. No credits can be claimed on returns for tax periods on or after July 1, 2030. The section expires July 1, 2030.

SECTION 6 is a new section in chapter 43.330 RCW creating the employee ownership revolving loan program with the state treasurer.

SECTION 7 notes sections 4 and 5 (tax preference details) take effect July 1, 2024.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

JLARC staff would contact and work with the Department of Revenue and other appropriate agencies or organizations immediately after passage of the bill to ensure project contacts are established and any other necessary data for JLARC staff’s future evaluation needs are identified and collected. JLARC will likely review the preference in 2028.

The expenditure detail reflects work conducted to prepare for the future review of the preference as well conducting the review in 2027-2028.

This tax preference review may require additional resources. The audit will be conducted and presented to JLARC consistent with the processes used for other tax preference reviews. Based on all tax preference legislation that is passed, JLARC may subsequently determine that it can absorb the costs for this proposed bill in its base budget, if the workload of other enacted tax preference legislation does not exceed current staffing. JLARC will assess all of the tax preference reviews mandated in the 2023 legislative session.

This audit will require an estimated 5 audit months.

JLARC Audit Months: JLARC calculates its staff resources in "Audit Months" to estimate the time and effort to undertake and complete its studies. An "Audit Month" reflects a JLARC analyst’s time for a month, together with related administrative, support, and goods/services costs. JLARC’s anticipated 2023-25 costs are calculated at approximately $22,100 per audit month.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

HB 1743 creates the employee ownership revolving loan program account, coupled with the general fund as the recipient of the earnings from investments under RCW 43.79A.040(4).

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

Projected cash flows are currently unavailable; therefore, estimated earnings from investments are indeterminable.

There may be an impact on the debt service limitation calculation. Changes to the earnings credited to the general fund impacts, by an equal amount, general state revenues.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

This fiscal note addresses sections 4 and 5 of the bill, which impact the Department of Revenue (department).

CURRENT LAW:

The business and occupation (B&O) tax is a gross receipts tax. It is measured on the value of products, gross proceeds of sale, or gross income of each business. The tax rate varies by classification. Rates for the major classifications range from 0.471% to 1.750%. Preferential rates are available for certain activities.

Several credits against the B&O tax are available. However, state law does not allow a credit for the cost of converting a business to an employee-owned structure.

PROPOSAL:

A credit against the B&O tax is provided for each qualifying business that converts to using any of the following employee ownership structures:

- employee stock ownership plan (ESOP)
- worker-owned cooperative
- employee ownership trust

For each business that converts to using an ESOP, the credit is equal to the greater of the following:

- 50% of conversion costs
- $100,000

For each business converting to a worker-owned cooperative or employee ownership trust, the credit is equal to the greater of the following:

- 50% of conversion costs
- $25,000

Each business may carry over unused credit to subsequent tax periods, as long it does so within 12 months of conversion.

Statewide, the total amount of credits authorized is $2 million for each calendar year.

“Conversion costs” means amounts spent on accounting, legal and other professional services to pay for a feasibility study and/or a transition to an employee-owned structure.

“Qualified business” means an entity that is:

- subject to the B&O tax
- does not already have one of employee-owned structures for which the credit is available
- approved by the department for the credit.

The credit expires on July 1, 2030.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

The bill takes effect 90 days after final adjournment of the session, except for the sections that create the credit, which take effect on July 1, 2024.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

ASSUMPTIONS:

- The department conducts significant outreach about the credit, leading to a greater number of conversions.
- The number of businesses annually converting to employee ownership is:
 - 13 during the first year the credit is available
 - 15 for subsequent years
- All converting businesses use the credit.
- For each converted business that uses the credit, the credit equals:
 - $45,000 for an employee stock ownership plan
 - $25,000 for a worker-owned cooperative
- Businesses using the credit in Washington are similar to Colorado businesses granted a credit for conversions during 2022 with regards to annual revenues and type of employee ownership.
- The B&O tax base grows as forecasted by the Economic and Revenue Forecast Council.
- Currently, tribes with compacts receive a share of certain business and occupation taxes (RCW 43.06.523). Under this proposal the amount of revenue shared with tribes and local governments may decline.
