Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

SB 6249 provides housing safety, security and protection by creating the homeowner relief property tax exemption.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The Homeowner relief property tax exemption administration account is created, coupled with the general fund as the recipient of the earnings from investments under RCW 43.84.092(4).

Projected cash flows are currently unavailable; therefore, estimated earnings from investments are indeterminable.

There may be an impact on the debt service limitation calculation. Changes to the earnings credited to the general fund impacts, by an equal amount, general state revenues.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

The following assumptions were provided by the department of revenue:

- This proposal affects 1.8 million taxpayers qualifying for a property tax exemption on their principal place of residence.
- Claimants will only have to apply once for the exemption unless there is a change of status with their principal place of residence. There will be 1.8 million applicants for the first year of the exemption and 250,000 new applicants for each following fiscal year.
- This estimate assumes voters approve the constitutional amendment in November 2024, and the effective date to start work is January 1, 2025.
- August 1, 2027, the office of the state treasurer (OST) will make the first distribution to counties equal to $10 multiplied by the estimated number of applications that will be received and processed in each county in 2028.
- August 1, 2028, and each year thereafter, the OST will distribute to counties an amount equal to $5 multiplied by the estimated number of new applications that will be received and processed in each county the following year.

Under section 3 (3)(a) the department of revenue must calculate the distributions and notify the state treasurer by July 25th of each year. Distributions must be made by the state treasurer beginning August 1, 2025 and by August 1 each year thereafter.

Part II: Narrative Explanation

II. A - Brief Description Of What The Measure Does That Has Fiscal Impact

Significant provisions of the bill and any related workload or policy assumptions that have revenue or expenditure impact on the responding agency by section number.

CURRENT LAW:

A homeowner relief property tax exemption exempts a portion of the value of a principal place of residence from property taxes. Current Washington law does not provide for a homeowner relief property tax exemption.

PROPOSAL:

This proposal provides a homeowner relief property tax exemption administered in part by the Department of Revenue (department) and local county assessors. The department will process applications for the exemption and provide the county assessors with a list of all claimants, parcels, and other information necessary for the assessor to determine eligibility. The county assessors will make the final determination on whether the applicant's property qualifies for the exemption and will apply the exemption to the applicant's qualifying property.

The exemption amount is the greater of $100,000 or 60% of the county median home value as of the most recent data published by the department, rounded to the nearest $1,000. The department must adjust the percent of the median value exempted downward if part 1 and part 2 of the state school levy are expected to exceed the combined statutory maximum rate of $3.60 per $1,000 market value.

The exemption cannot exceed the value of a parcel and does not apply to any local property tax levies.

The department must provide the exemption amounts to each county by August 1st of the year preceding the exemption.

The department must provide means for claimants to apply for the exemption online. The department and county assessors must also make paper application forms available upon request.

The homeowner relief property tax exemption is limited to only one residential parcel owned in fee or by contract purchase as the claimant's principal residence as defined and includes:

- Residential parcels consisting of less than five dwelling units, including single-family dwellings on government and tribal owned land, and mobile homes fixed in location.
- Residential units in a multiunit residential dwelling, provided each unit is owned and taxed separately.
- Residential floating homes.
- Residences in cooperative housing associations and mobile/manufactured home park cooperatives if the exemption passes through to the claimant.
- Life estates under certain criteria.

The homeowner relief property tax exemption:

- Requires a claimant to file a signed application with the department by April 1st of the year preceding the exemption, including an attestation that the property is the claimant's principal place of residence.
- The exemption remains in place until the property is sold, transferred, or the claimant no longer qualifies due to a change of use as a principal place of residence.
- Requires a claimant to immediately inform the county assessor, on forms created or approved by the department, of any change in status affecting the claimant's entitlement to a homeowner relief property tax exemption.
- Is in addition to the senior citizens and people with disabilities property tax exemptions.
- Provides an appeal process for claimants who are denied an exemption.
- Provides a mechanism to recover an exemption received in error by a claimant, including interest but not penalties.

The proposal requires an amendment to the state Constitution and voter approval of the amendment in November 2024.

This proposal creates a homeowner relief property tax exemption administration account. Funding for the account is through appropriation from the Legislature, and is distributed to counties to assist in the cost of administering the exemption. The funds paid to counties will be $10.00 for the estimated initial year exemptions, and $5.00 for each application in subsequent years.

If funds in the homeowner relief property tax exemption administration account are insufficient to make the full distributions under this subsection, the distributions to all counties must be reduced proportionately.

The new tax preference performance provisions do not apply to this bill.

EFFECTIVE DATE:

Legislation enacting this proposal takes effect January 1, 2025, subject to the passage of a constitutional amendment, and applies to taxes levied for collection in 2027. However, the department will not have a system ready to accept applications until January 1, 2028, with the first exemptions applied to taxes levied for collection in 2029.

II. B - Cash receipts Impact

Cash receipts impact of the legislation on the responding agency with the cash receipts provisions identified by section number and when appropriate, the detail of the revenue sources. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the cash receipts impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

ASSUMPTIONS:

- Taxable value cannot fall below zero.
- This exemption applies to Part 1 and Part 2 of the state levy.
- This exemption does not apply to local levies.
- The total estimated value exempted is $770 billion for property taxes due for calendar year 2029.
- Voters approve the constitutional amendment in November 2024.
- In January 2025, the department will start implementation.
- In January 2028, the department will start accepting applications.
- The first exemption is effective for property taxes levied for collection in 2029.

DATA SOURCES:

- Economic and Revenue Forecast Council, November 2023 forecast
- County assessor data
- Census Bureau, American Community Survey 2017-2021 5-year dataset
- State Property Tax Levy Model

REVENUE ESTIMATES:

The Economic and Revenue Forecast Council predicts the state property tax levy remains below the $3.60 limit throughout the 2027-29 biennium. A new exemption results in a shift and no loss to the state levy.

PROPERTY TAX SHIFTS:

This legislation results in a state levy shift to other taxpayers of an estimated $710 million for fiscal year 2029 and $1.37 billion in fiscal year 2030, the first full fiscal year.

II. C - Expenditures

Agency expenditures necessary to implement this legislation (or savings resulting from this legislation), with the provisions of the legislation that result in the expenditures (or savings) identified by section number. Description of the factual basis of the assumptions and the method by which the expenditure impact is derived. Explanation of how workload assumptions translate into cost estimates. Distinguished between one time and ongoing functions.

ASSUMPTIONS:

- Distributions from the homeowner relief property tax exemption administration account to the counties will be shown on the Office of the State Treasurer (OST) fiscal note as follows:
- August 1, 2027, the OST will make the first distribution to counties equal to $10 multiplied by the estimated number of applications that will be received and processed in each county in 2028.
- August 1, 2028, and each year thereafter, the OST will distribute to counties an amount equal to $5 multiplied by the estimated number of new applications that will be received and processed in each county the following year.

The department will implement and administer the application process for the homeowner relief property tax exemption as follows:

- The new tax preference performance provisions do not apply to this bill.
- The department will annually publish the county median residential assessed value by August 1.
- The department will annually adjust the percentage of county median residential assessed value as required.
- The department will audit the administration of the property tax exemption by county assessors as authorized in section 2, subsection 8 of the bill proposal.
- This proposal affects 1.8 million taxpayers qualifying for a property tax exemption on their principal place of residence.
- Claimants will only have to apply once for the exemption unless there is a change of status with their principal place of residence. There will be 1.8 million applicants for the first year of the exemption and 250,000 new applicants for each following fiscal year.
- This estimate assumes voters approve the constitutional amendment in November 2024, and the effective date to start work is January 1, 2025.

FIRST YEAR COSTS:

The department will not incur costs in fiscal year 2024.

Part V: New Rule Making Required

Provisions of the bill that require the agency to adopt new administrative rules or repeal/revise existing rules.

Should this legislation become law, the department will:

- Use the expedited process to amend WAC 458-14-015, titled: "Jurisdiction of county boards of equalization."
- Use the complex rule-making process to adopt one new rule under chapter 458-16 WAC for the property tax exemption.
