Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill allows most alcohol beverage retailers to make online or telephone sales of alcohol beverages to be picked up by the customer at parking spaces that are part of the retail licensed premises or to be delivered by the retailer or a delivery service. The bill also prohibits municipalities from imposing ordinances that place additional restrictions on these sales for pickup and creates an alcohol delivery permit issued by the Department of Revenue.

The bill creates an alcohol delivery permit issued by DOR to retailers, delivery services under common ownership with retailers, and third-party delivery services. The permit authorizes the permittee to deliver alcohol beverages in connection with remote delivery orders. A permit is valid for one year and has an annual fee of $150 for a retailer and $300 for a third-party delivery service or delivery service under common ownership with a retailer.

The department estimates that there would be minimal impact on state excise tax collections. The bill does not change the tax rate and there would not be a substantial impact on the overall level of taxable production or shipments of alcohol into the state. The bill, however, will result to an indeterminate increase in delivery permit fee revenues.

For illustrative purposes, there are currently 17,429 alcoholic beverage retailers and 1061 local messengers/delivery service providers (NAICS code 492210) in Wisconsin. Assuming all licensed retailers are issued delivery permits and all local messengers/delivery service providers are issued with third-party delivery service permits, fee revenue is estimated to be about $2,932,500 (17,429*150 + 1061*300). The number of permits may be lower depending on the number of businesses that obtain and renew the permit.

ADMINISTRATIVE COSTS

The department estimates one-time administrative costs of $364,990 for updating the state's tax processing system and process new applications and forms.

Administration of the new law would require additional staffing (one Excise Tax Agent and two Revenue Agents) in the department. Ongoing administrative expenses for staff and related supplies, services, equipment, and office space for IS&E is estimated to be $329,500.

The cost cannot be absorbed within existing resources.
