Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill permits the school attendance officer of a school district to notify the parent or guardian of a child who has been absent from school without an excuse for two full school days of the child's truancy by an electronic communication. Under current law, the school attendance officer must notify the parent or guardian of the child's truancy by personal contact, through a telephone call, or, if the attendance officer is unable to make contact with the parent or guardian, by first class mail.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
