Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Currently, no portion of any building or structure located within one mile of the center of the state capitol building that is constructed on or after April 28, 1990, may exceed the elevation of 1,032.8 feet above sea level (the elevation of the base of the capitol dome). The city of Madison may grant exceptions to the prohibition for flagpoles, spires, elevator penthouses, or similar building features.

This bill extends the current prohibition to any building or structure located within two miles of the center of the state capitol building, subject to the same exceptions. The extension does not apply to any building or structure that was constructed before the day the bill becomes law.
